Big Stick for Coolidge Mellon Will Stay Trotzky, He Worries Don't Gamble, But—

Current Events

By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, with "House and Senate independent of "blocs," has the "Big Stick" in his hands, to use as he sees fit. He is a careful man, and will probably swing his weapon cautiously.

THE LONDON POST considers this election of ours "America's warning to Moscow."

Conservative British editors say we have struck a death blow at Socialism. Our election warns Russia that we won't have anything to do with radicals.

Socialism and radicalism, however, have endured many "death blows" and survived.

IN FRANCE, statesmen of the Poincare type urge the French to imitate America, turn from radicalism and find happiness in old-fashioned conservatism. Meanwhile Herriot, Socialist and leader of the Socialist party, is the French Prime Minister. And even French capitalistic express the hope that Herriot will hang on to power for a while longer. They feel that he has sane ideas.

NEWS FROM Washington that Secretary Mellon will consent to remain in charge of the Treasury is good news. The management of United States finances, including the paying of billions of debt, rolled up so swiftly, takes real financial and business ability.

Mr. Mellon has both. The people will be fortunate if he continues working for them for nothing, neglecting a profitable business of his own.

NEWS FROM abroad is more interesting and exciting than anything here at home. John D. Rockefeller, playing peaceful golf under the warm sun, will be interested in the British plan for the biggest oil trust the world ever saw. Four great companies, Anglo-Persian, Burma, Royal Dutch and Shell interests, are to be made one. Most of the oil outside of the United States may be included in the deal.

MEANWHILE the Water Commission appointed by Lloyd George has reached the stage of practical experiment in connection with milking the tide in the Severn, third highest tide in the world. With that task successfully ended, oil in the ground will be as unimportant as oil in whale's blubber. The Severn alone would supply enough power for London, and for the seven next biggest cities in Great Britain, with a great deal to spare.

WHILE THE British build up their oil merger, they view with alarm the proposed European steel trust, which would include France, Germany and Belgium. Belgium and France, because of the skill and output developed during the war, and because their workmen are paid with cheap money, are hurting British steel mills, underselling them in foreign markets and in Great Britain. The interesting question is, "Will the Tories now in power put up the tariff wall that they would like to build?"

TROTZKY WORRIES about the United States. He made a speech yesterday, attacking American "militarism and capitalism," accusing us of organizing "forces of annihilation." He is afraid we intend to "annihilate Europe." That earnest Russian gentleman, who lived in the United States without seeing very much, worries without cause.

This country will be lucky if it wakes up in time and builds enough freight machines to forestall "annihilating" expeditions from Europe or Asia.

NEVER GAMBLE, nor even speculate. But if you know which railroads are making money, under really able management, buy stock in those roads.

GIRL KILLED IN AUTO SMASH

Another Badly Hurt as Machine Hits Pole on Curve in Weston; Driver Held

Miss Ellen Fleming, 23 years old, of No. 157 Huntington avenue, was killed, and Miss Susan Ducharme, 32 years old, of the Back Bay, was seriously injured when an automobile in which they were riding crashed into a telephone pole at South avenue and Oak street, Weston.

George P. Demeter, twenty-nine years old, student at Boston University Law School, driver, was injured on the head and wrist. John Pellos, thirty years old, of No. 157 Harvard street, Brookline, another passenger in the car, was cut and bruised.

Demeter was arraigned in the Waltham district court on a charge of manslaughter and was released in bonds of $1000 when the case was continued to November 20.

The automobilists were returning from Worcester at an early hour today when the car failed to take the corner. Passing automobilists summoned the Western police and the girls were rushed to the Newton Hospital.

Miss Fleming had a fractured skull and cuts about the head. Miss Ducharme suffered from fractures of a leg and an arm.

"MA" TO TREAT HER HUSBAND AS CITIZEN

Temple, Tex., Nov. 7 (A.P.).—Advice of her husband will be taken by Mrs. Miriam Amanda Ferguson, Governor-elect of Texas, "just as I will take the advice of any citizen of Texas interested in the welfare of the State," she said.

Complete returns from 80 out of 252 counties gave Mrs. Ferguson a plurality of 32,634 over Dr. Butte.

NEW CLEW IN KLAN DEATH

Believe Whitefield Man Alive When He Was Thrown Into the Water

Whitefield, N. H., Nov. 7.—Officials of Coos County, investigating the death of James Travers, former head of the Knights of Columbus here, whose body was found in a mill pond, believe he was alive, although suffering from injuries, when he was thrown into the pond.

One of the facts upon which this latest theory is based is that the spot where the body was found can be reached only by a skilled lumberjack with caulked boots, along a slippery chain-boom.

The body was wedged between two logs which had floated against the side of the boom, and the officials are inclined to believe the dead man made a vigorous, final effort to struggle over to the boom, and clamber up on it before he fell exhausted to four feet of water. This theory is strengthened by the fact that the marks found on the body indicated injuries not sufficient to cause his death.

MURDER NOT INTENDED?

The authorities are uncertain whether those who are believed to have attacked Travers actually planned to murder him. It may be possible, they point out, that the original object was merely to beat him up and then toss him in the mill pond, leaving him to struggle out as best he could.

Travers, who had been active in anti-Ku Klux Klan activities, had received several threatening letters from that organization since he participated in tearing down and extinguishing a flaming cross, emblem

Snowing, Freezing Weather in Northwest

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 7.—The first general snow of the season was reported over the Northwest today.

Temperatures below freezing accompanied the flakes in Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota.

The snow was expected to melt rapidly as the Weather Bureau forecast rising temperatures for the district today.

PULLS WOMAN TO SAFETY BY HAIR OF HEAD

While scores of automobile halted on Harvard Bridge today, the spectacle of a woman hanging from the structure of the bridge, while a man hauled her up by the hair of the head, met the sight of the throng of motorists.

The woman had leaped from the bridge, but, changing her mind, had grasped its edge as she went over the railing.

An ambulance took the woman to a police station, where she gave her name as Jennie Rickel of No. 40 Appleton street. She appeared none the worse for her attempt at suicide. Her rescuer was George W. Forbes, foreman for the Winter Hill Ice Company.

A story of being held up and robbed by a taxi driver, in whose cab she was riding, halfway across the bridge, was recounted to the police by the rescued woman.

"I became so despondent after I was robbed that I jumped out of the taxi on the Cambridge side of the bridge and decided to commit suicide," she said.

PAINTER FALLS 100 FEET, NOT EVEN A BONE BROKEN

Fitchburg, Nov. 7.—Henry J. Cloutier, 23 years old, of 23 Walker place, Lowell, almost miraculously escaped death when he fell 100 feet from a smokestack of the Fitchburg Gas and Electric Company's plant today. He was painting the stack when the tackle-rope parted. In his plunge, Cloutier struck a wire and then a roof, which broke his fall. At the hospital an X-ray examination showed that not even a bone was broken.

NEW BRITISH CABINET KISSES HAND OF KING

London, Nov. 7 (A.P.).—King George today received the ministers of nine retiring Labor governments, who handed over their seals of office at a brief ceremony which attracted little public attention. Later the King held a council with Premier Baldwin and the members of his cabinet at which the custom of kissing the sovereign's hand was carried out.

3 BANDITS SEIZED BY 30 POLICE

Rounded Up in R. I., After Auto Driver's Confession, in Wrentham Bank Shooting

While Alfred Bedard, confessed bandit car driver in the Wrentham National Bank holdup, was being arraigned in court today, thirty Massachusetts and Rhode Island police descended on a Providence rooming house and captured the other three alleged bandits at gun points.

As the huge force of officers burst into the room at Nos. 117-119 North Main street, Providence, one of the trio, Manuel Pacheco, twenty-five, of Second street, New Bedford, snatched a revolver from beneath his pillow.

He was buried beneath an onslaught of policemen, however, and disarmed. His companions arrested are James Mingo, twenty-eight, of No. 103 Union street, New Bedford, and Celestino F. Medicos of Seekonk street, New Bedford.

SHOT HUB WOMAN.

One of the trio, according to a message to the Boston police from Providence, is Joseph Moreira of Providence, who is alleged to have shot and seriously wounded Mrs. Margaret Davis Mendes in her home, No. 414 Commercial street, Boston, ten days ago, when she rejected his attentions.

According to Captain Thomas E. High of the Massachusetts state police, the gun with which Charles Carpenter, eighty-year-old cashier of the Wrentham Bank, was dangerously wounded, was found on one of the alleged bandits arrested today.

Lieutenant Michael F. Fleming and State Detective Joseph Ferrari were two of the Massachusetts detail in the raid.

With twenty-eight Providence police inspectors and patrolmen, led by Lieut. Harry F. Drown, the two Massachusetts detectives, Fleming and Ferrari, searched seven Providence lodging houses before finding that in which the suspects slept.

All three men were in the same bed when the raiding officers burst

BABY PAWN IN DUNN CONTEST

George E. Dunn and Wife File Counter Charges in Sensational Suit

Sensational charges and counter charges are exchanged between Mr. and Mrs. George Eldridge Dunn of Houlton, whose wealth is counted in millions, in divorce suits made public today in Houlton, Me.

Mrs. Dunn is an heiress and youngest daughter of the late Lewis Tuttle, former Governor of Maine.

While her parents are entering upon their final battle, a pretty seven-year-old, their only child, sees all the lessons in a fashionable Brookline, ignorant of the proceedings in which she is the most important figure until the child.

Mrs. Dunn is charged with infidelity, extreme cruelty and confirmed habits of intoxication. She is evidently armed with unfaithfulness on the night of October 1, 1917, two years after her marriage.

WIFE CHARGES CRUELTY.

Mrs. Dunn in her suit alleges cruelty.

Dunn petitions for the late George E. Dunn millionaire lumberman of Houlton.

Both husband and wife ask the Supreme Court of Aroostook County, Maine where the suits are filed for custody of little Margaret.

Brookline and Houlton are agog with discussion of the rift in the Dunn family. It has been whispered about for several weeks that the young husband and wife had come to a parting of the ways.

FRIENDS ARE SURPRISED.

Brookline society folks, among whom the former Margaret Powers blossomed into a debutante, are said to have been entirely ignorant of the possibility of a divorce suit, although close friends knew the husband and wife had temporarily parted.

Stories of gay parties in which both husband and wife are said to have figured are current in Houlton.

The mansion of the Dunns and Dunn family are show places in Houlton.

Mrs. Dunn's father, besides being Governor of Maine, was also Congressman for Maine. He was still in Congress he established and maintained his elder home. Though not his normal residence in Brookline, the uncle, Frederick Powers, was

AMNESTY GRANTED TO IRISH PRISONERS

Dublin, Nov. 7 (AP).—President Cosgrave of the Irish Free state announced in the Dail Eireann today the granting of amnesty for political offences committed between December 6, 1921, and May 12, 1923.

MRS. MARGARET DUNN

Wife of George E. Dunn, son of rich lumberman in Houlton, Me., and herself an heiress, daughter of the late Governor Powers of Maine. Her husband charges infidelity, cruelty and drinking. ## FIGHTS HUSBAND FOR DIVORCE AND BABY

LODGE CONSCIOUS FOR SHORT TIME

For the first time in his dogged battle with death that began more than two days ago, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge today showed a short period of consciousness at the Charlesgate Hospital, Cambridge.

A little nourishment was administered and then the sufferer sank relief off into coma.

The bulletin, signed by physicians attending him, read:

Condition remains grave. He has shown short period of consciousness and has taken nourishment for the first time."

All through the day anxious relatives watched at the bedside of the Senator as he waged fifth with the grim reaper.

The first bulletin of the day, issued by Dr. John H. Cunningham, who performed two operations on the Senator, said:

"While still unconscious, Senator Lodge's vitality has not perceptibly changed during the last twenty-four hours."

Certainly the surgeon declared: "It is most astonishing that he is still alive. I cannot see any hope, although he appears as strong today as he did yesterday morning."

Outside the hospital a group of newspapermen are all day awaiting the news from the sick room. There is little likelihood there will be any change in the official statements issued by Dr. Cunningham until the end comes, for already the bulletins have indicated that members of the family as well as the physicians anticipate the inevitable.

Within calling distance at all times are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Lodge, son and daughter-in-law of the senator; Mrs. C. C. Williams, a daughter; Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., and John D. Lodge, grandsons, and Mrs. W. Garden Means, a granddaughter.

FREIGHTER BROCKTON BREAKS SHAFT

FIFTH AVE. SHOW WINDOW LOOTED OF RICH FURS

New York, Nov. 7.—Five of six men involved in a series of several robberies and burglaries in Manhattan today were captured by the police. The loot taken was valued at several thousand dollars.

One of the burglaries was in the Saks & Company store on Fifth avenue. The burglars crashed show windows on the avenue to remove gowns and fur coats.

HANOVER MAN HURT IN FIREWORKS BLAST

Hanover, Nov. 7.—A mixing building at the National Fireworks Company plant here exploded, injuring one workman, Edgar Knight. He was mixing a preparation to be used in cane fireworks, when without warning it exploded and he was blown bodily out of a door. The building was badly damaged. Knight escaped with severe burns.

Do You THINK While You Are Dressing?

The Time Used in Dressing Need Not Be Wasted

Man in the process of evolution has got rid of his fur, or feathers, and every day he must put on something to take the place of fur, and every night he must take off the artificial clothing.

One old man in the State of New Jersey killed himself and left a note saying that he died because he was so tired of buttoning and unbuttoning clothes.

There is apparently no greater waste of time than the time that is spent in dressing and undressing.

Bathing, shaving for men and powdering the nose for women, finding what you want to wear and putting it on—it is a tiresome part of every day.

BUT—

The hours in which a human being grows and develops mentally are the hours of solitude.

And a great many of us are practically never alone, except when we are getting dressed or undressed.

Sleep is a time of idleness—no growth there.

When we are with others we listen, learn, perhaps, and debate, but we don't really THINK WITH INTENSITY.

The one thing that makes you more of a man than you were last year is intense, solitary thought.

Why not say to yourself: "Since I must spend at least 330 hours a year in dressing and undressing, in bathing and shaving and looking for my collar button, I'll also spend that time IN THINKING?

Do you know how many men spend 300 hours a year in actual, concentrated thought?

Not one in a thousand.

Suppose you see what you can make out of the hours lost in putting on and taking off the artificial fur and feathers and how much you can grow in the thinking.

---

Bacon felt that the mind was developed by reading, talking and writing.

And he said:

Writing maketh an exact man.

Speaking maketh a ready man.

Reading maketh a full man.

(We quote the learned gentleman from memory, which is necessary when you write editorials on a railroad train.)

Reading fills you with knowledge, speaking makes you quick or ready, writing makes you exact—true.

But more important than reading, writing or speaking IS THINKING.

The real YOU lives inside of your brain alone. And it works at its best when you are alone.

Aristotle taught Alexander the Great walking up and down with the young prince that he might become wise and strong at the same time—that is what they call the peripatetic method of intellectual development.

Why don't you educate yourself in thought as you march up and down from the bed to the bathroom, from the rough towel to the safety razor, and so on through the long, tiresome and usually wasted process of dress?

Our Wonderful Bodies

Interesting to Osteopaths

All Bible readers know that they are "fearfully and wonderfully made."

A marvelous young surgeon from Australia, Dr. J. L. Hunter, assures us that the bodily machine in which we live is more wonderful than we know.

This young doctor from the other side of the earth, referred to by our great surgeon Mayo as "the great anatomist and physiologist," shows how diseases can be cured by cutting nerves in parts of the body far removed from the seat of the disease.

For instance, in operations on the stomach, all suffering can be eliminated by injecting a local anaesthetic at the SPINAL root of the nerve that reaches the stomach.

The osteopaths will be interested in that. They have been telling the doctors for years that pressure of the spinal joints upon nerves has caused many diseases, and can be relieved or cured by manipulation. Dr. Russell, osteopath of Buffalo, can tell a child has had typhoid by looking at the child's backbone.

The Income Tax Explosion

The storm aroused by the publication of income tax returns is not entirely without its humorous side.

Here we have gone along, over one hundred million of us, proof against all forms of excitement, nothing national or international being sufficient to disturb our slumber party.

Foreign nations entered and emerged from wars, but we did not heed them; earthquakes convulsed us here and there, but we merely glanced at the chimney, and if it seemed plumb, we went about our business.

Nations might race with each other to gain air supremacy and we might lapse into a state of coma at Washington, resulting in our sky becoming an invitation to world-wide invasion, but we merely batted our eyes when reminded of it, then turned to the sports page.

The national election went up and down America, blowing its fog horns in vain to attract our attention. The League of Nations protocol proclaimed an international proscription of us; we merely glanced over our spectacles and allowed that we must look into that.

We were unruffled when thousands of farmers had their bankruptcies published in the newspapers, but when they published our own income tax returns, that was a cataclysm!

They were invading our liberties and walking with hobnailed feet all over the Declaration of Independence and driving a truck, loaded with TNT, clear through the Constitution!

And all because our tax returns were published!

All because the world could see how good our memories were when we figured out what we owed Uncle Sam!

The tax returns are "public records," but in some quarters their publication has caused all the excitement of a dynamite bomb.

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By HELEN ROWLAND

A MAN finds it awfully hard to lie to the woman he loves, the first time he tries—and awfully hard NOT to, for ever afterward.

This is because woman is SO "unreasonable"!

* * *

Any normal man prefers to be open and above board. Subterfuge and evasion are foreign to his nature. But what can the poor boy do?

Helen Rowland.

He would much rather tell a girl frankly that her nose is too short, but that he LOVES her just the same, that perjure his soul and strain his imagination, in the effort to invent new compliments and flattering fibs every day for the rest of his life.

He would much rather telephone her that he is going on a wild party, or to a smoker at the club, or The Follies, than invent a committee meeting; but that would involve explanations—and a man hates to EXPLAIN things.

No married man really desires to resort to subterfuge in order to get away evenings. It is a great nuisance to any man to have to "watch his step," clean out his pockets, chew cloves or pretend not to SEE the little blonde who is trying to fling him from across the restaurant.

* * *

Any man would infinitely prefer to bring "the crowd" HOME and stage their all-night parties right in the family living-room. But, alas, the wife "can't see it that way." Unreasonable—that's what!

Any man chafes at clandestine and sub rosa methods, and hates to walk four blocks out of the way, and tip the waiter to find him an OBSCURE table, when he takes that "old flame" out to luncheon. But his wife simply wouldn't "understand." So there!

Any man hates to have to resort to prevarication, from the wedding day to the grave, to explain his tardiness, his absence, his intemperance, or his indifference.

He would much rather tell a woman the TRUTH—that he DID stop at the little corner "speak-easy" to chat with Bill; that he WAS out with the old flame or the new stenographer; that he HAS had a drink; that he DID forget that it was their wedding anniversary—or that she doesn't give a HANG, about her, any more, anyhow!

* * *

But, he's a gentleman—and he's got to lie like one! He's GOT to temporize or have a scene on his hands!

A woman's attitude is such, that he is driven to deceit, just to preserve the peace, and "keep things running smoothly."

And Heaven knows, PEACE and perfect LIBERTY—to do anything on earth he pleases—are all that any man asks!

That's why, in his bright lexicon, a lie is a lie, if he tells it to another man—but, when he tells it to a woman, it's just "policy."

* * *

A woman is SO "unreasonable"!

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

WHAT did I see as the train sped on, out of the shadows of night, out of the darkness and into dawn, on while the world grew bright? Rows of poplars that touched the sky, shimmering green and tall; night, grown timid and fleeing by, warned by the skylarks' call. Wind flowers dancing upon the breeze under a low, green hedge, cottages nestling among the trees close by a river's edge. How boys as fresh as the dawning day, hastening out to toil; happy in spite of their meagre pay, glad with the joy of the soil. Wonderful joy that is ever new, fed by Earth's growing things, rapture of clover blooms and dew, whirring of wild, gay wings! What did I see as the train sped on, into the reddening West? Into the desert gray and lone over the mountains' crest? Cluster of houses that formed a town right at the desert's rim; sprawling as if they were just dropped down, there in the twilight dim. Little, low hives so poor and mean, lacking in charm and grace showed, as the train sped by in tween many a happy face. Laughter of children rang gaily out over the roar of the train, merry cries and a fewer, shrill shout joyous as April rain. Glimpses of life as the train went through village and field and wood; glimpses of love and the toil men do, life that is always good.

THE HELPING HAND

Letters Not Answered Personally. No attention Paid to Telephone Calls or Anonymous Letters. No Names Published.

Scarcely Enough to Eat

Helping Hand Editor:

Will you please try and help me, as I am in great need? My husband has been out of work for sixteen weeks, and we scarcely get enough to eat. I have five children, the oldest twelve, and expect the sixth one soon, and nothing to put on it when it arrives. Anything in baby clothes would be a great help. My children are boys, twelve, seven, four, three and 1½ years of age. Hope some one will help me.

MRS. V. P.

Thanks for Mrs. G. C. W.

Helping Hand Editor:

Will you kindly thank Mrs. G. C. W., Dorchester for the nice things she sent me. I appreciate it very much.

MRS. M. L.

In Need of Clothes

Helping Hand Editor:

I have six children, and my husband is sick and out of work. need clothing very badly for the children. The children are: Boys, sixteen, ten and eight years old, and three girls, fourteen, size shoe; ten, 2 shoe, and girl four years of age. I will be thankful to get anything.

MRS. M. K.

Lonesome Vet Wants Radio

Helping Hand Editor:

I am a disabled veteran and living in a lonesome village, nine miles from a railroad, or from any amusements. Wish you could help me get a radio set, something that will shorten the long days and nights of the coming Winter.

JAMES L.

Clothes for Children

Helping Hand Editor:

I have four or five blue serge dresses for children nine or ten years old and a blue Winter coat for girl nine or ten. Light sweaters for child ten and one heavy one for child seven years old. Also suit for boy about thirteen or fourteen.

MRS. A. M.

Many thanks, Mrs. S., mother of six girls, will be so thankful for the girls' clothing, while Mrs. L., mother of nine children, one boy about the age you mention, will be able to make good use of the boy's apparel.

Need School Clothes

Helping Hand Editor:

I am a woman going out working by the day to try and keep my little ones at school. I get discouraged seeing the children look so shabby. There are three children, two boys, 10 and 6 years of age, and girl, 8. If any kind readers could give me some old coats or underwear for them I would never, never forget it. My husband is in need of a coat and pants, size 35 or 40. I hope I can get a job in a factory soon where I can earn a little more money.

MRS. L. E. E.

Needs Waiter's Coat

Helping Hand Editor:

I am a disabled veteran and cannot work at my trade in the mill, but I can get a job waiting on tables in a hotel, but I must have a tuxedo coat, so if there is any kind reader who has such an old coat, size about 36, I would appreciate it very much if he would be good enough to give it to me.

P. B.

Sick From Worrying

Helping Hand Editor:

I am in need of help. Sometimes I do not know what a good Sunday dinner is. I am sick from worrying. It is now getting cold weather and I do not know how I can get coal or wood enough to keep us warm. I have two boys, eleven and seven years of age. I would be so happy to get a little aid in time of need, and I do need help in every way. Please do not forget us.

MRS. E. F. P.

Young Mother Needs Help

Helping Hand Editor:

I would like to get in touch with a middle-aged woman or a young mother with one child who would be willing to help a young mother with a six-months-old baby to do her housework in return for board and room.

MRS. H. E. S.

In Need of Shoes

Helping Hand Editor:

My father disappeared and left my mother with seven children. I am a girl twelve years old, oldest in the family. The other girls' ages are two, seven, nine and four. The boys' ages are six and three. Shoes we need are 12, 3, 6½, 10 and 5, girls'; boys' shoes 10½ and 8.

GRACE H.

Sick and In Need

Helping Hand Editor:

I am a young mother, deserted and left penniless by my husband for the last three years. Am sick and need clothes and shoes badly for my little girl six years and boy three. Please help me, as I can't go on otherwise. I also owe a month's rent, $14.

TRUE FRIENDSHIP IS PRICELESS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

I HAVE passed through some humiliating experiences. I have been betrayed, deserted, sold out, lied to, mortified, and laid low, by those who should have stood by me. The like, I suppose, has befallen most people who have lived any considerable length of time.

While passing through the dark strips of life, I was utterly unable to understand them, and was inclined to rail at destiny, and wanted often to die, for such things make one sick of life.

But I am beginning to see what it all meant. It was fate's purpose, by this process, to reveal to me my friends. Against each black episode of disappointment in my past gleams the face of a Friend, whose radiance is the more glorious for its dark background.

To find diamonds men have to shovel over heaps and heaps of mud and sand and gravel. To get gold they dig out tons of worthless rock. So out of multitudes of people, indifferent, and not a few hostile, I have excavated a dozen Friends or so. These are my jewels. I wear them in a little sack around my soul's neck. To feel rich I have only to take them out and count them over. They are mine, the riches of life.

Why should I feel self-pity? All the Son of God could accumulate was a quite small group of Friends.

All life is a mine; we unearth and search through the mass of People, to find a few Friends.

All life is an Ocean; we fish our life long, to catch a Friend or two.

A Friend is a Pearl of Great Price; having found it, a man straightway sells all he has, to buy it, that he may wear it.

WILL NEW YORK SINK LIKE ATLANTIS?

By Garrett P. Serviss

Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

THERE is an old legendary "prophecy," or better, perhaps, superstition, predicting, without any bill of particulars, that, some day, Manhattan Island will sink and, Atlantis-like, carry all its people and its riches to the bottom of the sea.

The idea was based upon the peculiar situation of the island, with deep water all around, as if cut off from the support of the surrounding rocks; combined with a hasty calculation of the effect of the weight of the innumerable huge buildings piled upon it in increasing numbers every year.

Slight Shock.

In the middle "eighties," I remember, there was a slight earthquake that shook down pictures from the Battery to the Bronx and created several forebodings, immediately revived by the rocking upon the prophesied sinking, fluttered about like bats shaken out of their hiding places.

The idea that an earthquake was to be the great agent summoned by nature to bring down the pride of Gotham, then got about, and has continued to turn up occasionally ever since.

It is apparently with a view to casting a little scientific light upon this phase of the legend that Dr. Reeds, associate curator of the American Museum of Natural History, has made public some facts about the underpinning of the American metropolitan city, and the relations of its "groundfloor" to the rocky framework of the continent to which it is subterraneously joined.

This statement of the views of a geologist, familiar with the local facts, about the probabilities or possibilities of a really serious earthquake affecting New York should have the effect of quieting any nervous apprehensions caused by the persistence of the old legend.

Dr. Reeds shows that Manhattan is braced firmly by the Palisades on the west, and by other broad and strong rock formations in New Jersey, southeastern New York, Long Island and Connecticut, so that, as far as geology can determine, it is one of the safest spots on the globe with regard to earthquakes or subterranean sinkings. There is no sign in the underlying strata of earthquakes having occurred in former times.

Four principal rock groups of different ages, are found in and about New York city, and these are "well adjusted toward one another.

"Together they form a solid crust, without caverns or subterranean holes, some sixty miles or more in thickness, and strong enough to support any amount of weight, or structures, that man may be able to place thereon. Furthermore, there is not the slightest possibility that oil or gas will be found in the rocks underlying New York City, at shallow or at great depths."

As to the effects of the piling up of immense buildings, Dr. Reeds points out that the ice that covered Manhattan Island in the glacial ago was immensely heavier than any city or other structures of man could be.

The weight of the ice apparently depressed the land some two-and-a-half feet 25,000 years ago, but even that did not produce earthquakes.

Reassurance.

As a final cooling breeze of reassurance for New Yorkers, Dr. Reeds offers this:

"Throughout millions of years the rocks under the city and the adjacent ones have been so adjusted with reference to one another that the earth stresses an distrains, which are so active in young mountain regions that they cause earthquakes, are not manifested here.

"The basal rocks of the New York-Philadelphia district are so old and well settled that they react unlike affecting New York should have the effect of quieting any nervous apprehensions caused by the persistence of the old legend.

Dr. Reeds shows that Manhattan is braced firmly by the Palisades on

ONCE-OVERS

SMILE AND KEEP YOURSELF YOUNG

A noted man, a marvel for his age, considering his sedentary habits, was asked how he kept so vigorous without taking outdoor exercise, which is considered so necessary to a long and active life.

"Work hard, get plenty of sleep and smile," was his formula.

It is a safe bet that not the least of these are his smiles.

Smiles drive away irritating thoughts, make life easier and troubles less.

Smiles keep the heart young.

Light-heartedness and responsiveness represent youth.

Smiles banish blues, which are largely responsible for old age creeping on, for the blues measure life by years, while smiles forget years.

If you can help others by a smile you have done a good service to both yourself and others.

Work does not kill, but worry does, and worry does not smile.

Sleep is the best medicine, and just the proper combination of work, sleep and smiles means a youthful spirit.

The wife who smiles across the breakfast table at her husband makes him better fitted for the trials and exasperations of a business day.

THREE ARRESTS FOLLOW CONFESSION IN DARING BANK HOLDUP

RHODE ISLAND MAN ADMITS HE DROVE BANDITS' CAR

into the room and hurled them under a sheer weight of numbers, wrestling away the big 45-calibre revolver, loaded with soft-nosed slugs, of the kind found in Cashier Carpenter's wounds.

Outside the Providence running horse an automobile, bearing license plates issued to Bedard, was standing at the curb. It is alleged that this machine figured in the sensational bank hold up.

Bedard's machine is alleged also to have figured in the attempted holdup of the paymaster of Edward Turgeon, Providence contractor.

It is probable that the Providence authorities will hold the trio to answer first the attempted paymaster robbery charge.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL.

In Walpole district court today, Bedard, forty-seven-year-old Pawtucket auto repair man, who confessed to his part in the Wrentham holdup, pleaded not guilty to assault with intent to murder the cashier.

He was held without bail until tomorrow morning and was guarded under heavy guard to the Dedham jail.

Bedard insists that he took no actual part in the commission of the crime, but remained outside the bank while his companions were engaged in the attempted robbery. Bedard even denies knowing his companions' but this is regarded as untrue by the authorities.

WAS RUM SUSPECT.

Bedard, long suspected in his home town of Pawtucket of being implicated in rum running activities, was arrested near his home and was rushed at once to the town jail at Wrentham. After hours of grilling, he finally broke down and gave his version of the holdup, according to the police, as follows:

"About 9 o'clock last Saturday morning I met a man I formerly knew in Pawtucket. I don't remember the man's name but he was driving a blue roadster and he invited me to go along on a ride.

"We drove to Providence and there we met two men that I did not know. I took the wheel of the car then and the whole party of us drove to Wrentham. They told me to stop the car in front of the bank.

WAITED OUTSIDE.

"I thought they were going into a store near the bank. Instead they entered the bank, but I still thought nothing of it. Then I heard some shooting and the tall fellow came running out of the bank toward the car. He had a revolver in his hand and the other two were close behind him.

"They climbed into the car and we drove off. I didn't know what had happened, but the party dropped me on the other side of the State line and I went on home. I don't know where the rest of the crowd went.

"On Sunday I drove up to Matapan square, Boston, in my own sedan and my car was stolen while it was parked along the curb. The same tall fellow who had the gun when he came running from the bank is the one who stole my car or I saw him about."

AUTO LICENSE CLEWS.

Bedard's confession was prompted partly through the finding in his checking of Massachusetts and Rhode Island auto licenses in the name of Cristino F. Medicos.

The confessed driver admitted that he knew the three holdup men by their first name, and added that the man who did the shooting was "the Big Mexican."

Up to the era of prohibition Bedard was a staid and respectable business man, having the Pawtucket agency for a popular, medium-priced automobile.

Money was not coming in fast enough, he told Chief of Police Horatio Huggins of Wrentham, and he turned rum-runner, making three fast trips a week to Canada. He denied, however, that he ever had been a hi-jacker.

WEDDING GIFTS SAVED FROM BURGLARS

Middleton Estate Looted by Professionals, Who Expected Big Haul

Middleton, Nov. 7.—Timely removal of valuable jewelry and wedding presents from the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Winchester Smith here, following the recent wedding of their daughter, foiled an extensive robbery by thieves who ransacked the house during its owners' absence last week.

Articles of chiefly sentimental value, including Chinese curios brought from the Orient by Mrs. Smiths' father, the late Captain Mullen, were among the loot taken by the burglars whose bounty netted them around $500, it was revealed today.

DISCOVER NEW CLEW IN KLAN DEATH

Believe Whitefield Man Alive When He Was Thrown Into the Water

of the klan, burned here a short time ago.

Deputy Sheriff George W. Kotback said three drinks of whiskey which Travers had taken early Wednesday morning might have contributed to his death.

Travers' widow said today she was ignorant of the reported fact he had received threatening letters from the Klan.

A resident of Whitefield has told the police that he saw a light burning on the porch of Travers home about 1:30 Wednesday morning, after Travers had been down-town receiving election returns. About that hour, Mrs. Travis says she heard an automobile being placed in the garage at the rear of the home and then the doorbell rang.

It was two or three minutes before she opened the door, she said, and when she did so she found no one there.

The latest evidence which is in the possession of County Solicitor M. J. Ryan and Sheriff Colbath entirely disproves the theory of suicide which was advanced by acquaintances of the dead man.

The autopsy, performed by Dr. H. N. Kingsford of Hanover, has revealed the presence of water in the lungs of the young merchant while there is a possibility that chloroform or a poison of some kind was used on Travers when he was attacked after placing his motor truck in his garage, early Wednesday morning.

Resident of this section known to be affiliated with the Ku Klux Klan vigorously assert that the klan had nothing to do with the slaying of Travers and that the merchant's anti-klan activities were never considered or discussed by th. klan.

There was a pathetic scene at the home of Travers when his body was returned there today. Mrs. Travers broke down as the eldest of her five children made vain efforts to comfort her.

The children are: Jennie, fourteen; Lucy, twelve; Ruth, ten; Mary, seven, and George, three.

Travers was born in St. Sylvestre, Province of Quebec, forty years ago and was brought to New Hampshire by his parents when he was three years old.

Radio Wave From England Takes Photo in U. S.

New York, Nov. 7.—A radio wave, flashed across the ocean from England, set off a powder flashlight, clicked a camera and made a photograph in the Grand Central Palace, where the National Radio Exposition is being held.

Major J. O. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America; Helen Keller and Harold Bolster, director of the exposition, were photographed by the unseen "radio photographer," who was stationed in Carnarvon, Wales.

Many noted radio engineers witnessed the feat—the first experiment of the kind ever attempted.

a judge. Another uncle was a member of the Maine State Legislature and a prominent attorney, and a cousin is now president of one of the Houlton banks.

The divorce suits mark the end of a much talked of romance which began years ago when both were children in Houlton. They were married November 27, 1913. The couple made their home in Brookline. The daughter, Margaret, was born August 27, 1917.

The fact that Mrs. Dunn, who is wealthy in her own name, kept her fortune separate from that of her husband, is shown by the Brookline town records, where she paid a personal property tax equal to his.

In the middle of last Summer the Dunns left their Beacon street home. Mrs. Dunn took her daughter and went to live with her mother and brothers. Except for frequent trips to Houlton, she is still living with them at No. 287 Kent street, at the corner of Longwood avenue, Brookline.

Dunn is somewhere in Boston, but his exact whereabouts is not known. For several years he has been a driver in the stock market, one of his plunges being on the "Piggly-Wiggly" stock.

The husband's suit is returnable in the Supreme Court in Houlton on November 18, but no date for trial has yet been fixed. A jury trial may be demanded by either party.

WEDS INTO ANCIENT FAMILY

Daughter of the Late Justice Lowell Obtained Decree Recently in Paris

The spurs of the Black Prince of England have been turned over to the keeping of a Boston woman, the former Mrs. Lowell Lloyd.

With the spurs there has been given into the hands of the lady—descendant of one of New England's most illustrious families—a faded old copy of the famous will by which a Marquis of Berkeley gave his castle and other possessions to King Henry VII. Then there is a tattered old flag, a famous banner that has flown over English troops in many battles.

These and other relics of great days in England must be dusted and safeguarded by the Boston woman because today in London she became the bride of the Earl of Berkeley, F. R. S., a nobleman whose title can be traced back to the thirteenth century.

WED AT REGISTRY.

The couple were married in a district registry office in London. Only a few persons were present to witness the interesting international marriage and after the ceremony the couple went to the continent on a honeymoon.

The former Mrs. Lowell Lloyd of Boston, the bride, gave her age as thirty-eight years. The Earl of Berkeley gave his age as fifty-nine years. Both have been married before.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John Lowell of No. 24 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, and of the late John Lowell, who was for many years a justice of the United States Circuit Court. She is related to all of the Lowells whose exclusiveness has originated the famous American tradition that they condescend to hold conversation only with the members of another Boston family, the Cabots.

DIVORCED IN PARIS.

Two years ago she secured a divorce in Paris from Francis V. Lloyd, brother of a prominent Philadelphia family. Their son, Francis V. Lloyd, Jr., is at St. George's School, Newport, R. I.

Randal Thomas Mowbray Rawdon Berkeley, eighth earl of Berkeley, succeeded on the title on the death of his father in 1888. In 1887 he was married to Mrs. Kate Brand Jackson, who died in 1898. His castle in Gloucestershire is a treasure house of relics of the reign of almost every monarch of the British Empire.

Since the death of Lady Berkeley he has been pursued by the mama of every title-seeking girl in Europe and America but it remained for the divorcee from Boston, to capture the prize.

WANTS PADLOCK PUT ON SALOON IN FITCHBURG

Assistant United States Attorney Stone filed a petition in the Federal Court today for a padlocking injunction against a soft-drink establishmen in Mill street, Fitchburg. Rowland Beauchemin is named as proprietor, John Russo and John S. Quinn, the latter of Leominster, clerks; and the Cushing Holding Company, as owners. The petition alleges illegal sales of liquor and holds the place to be a nuisance.

DECLARES PONZI 'PROGRESSIVE' INSOLVENT

Charles Ponzi was "progressively insolvent," according to the testimony at the Ponzzi trial today of Ralph L. Longden, an expert accountant.

Questioned about the liabilities, assets and business methods of the erstwhile "wizard of finance," Longden said there was no evidence that Ponzi dealt in international reply postal coupons, and that the only profit he made during his spectacular School street career was $45 received as dividends on telephone company stock.

Testifying that he examined Ponzi's books to determine the nature of the business, the witness said that he found Ponzzi's receipts were $9,582,591.82 and that he paid out $9,137,450.50. The sum of $486,000 drawn against Ponzi's accounts could not be accounted for, Longden declared.

"What were my assets" Ponzzi asked the witness.

Longden replied that his examination did not deal with the assets of the business. In reply to other questions he stated that his examination showed that Ponzi paid some of his notes twice.

On cross examination by Asst. Dist. Atty. Frank S. Deland the witness said that Ponzi was apparently engaged in the business of issuing promissory notes, that he was "progressively insolvent," indeed there was no evidence that he dealt in international reply postal coupons, that note were found. There was no evidence that he deal't in postage stamps in large quantities, and no evidence that he received profit fr-m any source except the profit of $45 on telephone s'ock.

A previous witness called by Ponzi was Olaf Olsen, vice- president of the First National Bank from whom Ponzi secured an admission that the bank undertook to act as Ponzi's trustee and to make payments to note holders in the event of Ponzi's death.

SAILOR KNOCKS OUT ANOTHER IN LYNN FIGHT

William Simpson, a sailor on the U. S. S. Savannah, succeeded in knocking unconscious an alleged deserter from the U. S. S. Cleveland, who he said had blackjacked him and tried to rob him in an alley off High street, Lynn, early today. Simpson was accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence Arbene of Ellis street, Lynn. The deserter said he was Sidney Wilkinson. As he had a revolver and a blackjack he was held in $3,000 bail on a charge of assault and attempting to rob. Mrs. Arbene was allowed to go.

Princeton Corduroy Fad Not Favored at Cambridge; English Sack Suits Favored

While Princeton men join the ranks of the economical and make a fad of corduroy trousers, which are comparatively cheap and long-wearing and washable, does Harvard follow suit? Yes, John does not. He manages to muddle along somehow without—merely imported English sack suits and 'coon coats.

But he does show considerable good taste and appreciation of price in making purchases, according to the general opinion of the many clothiers with shops about Harvard square. He cannot bring himself to the democratic "reeds" that are accepted or even the fashion, as with seniors of the University of California, in many other colleges; he goes rather on the theory of "the best is the cheapest."

ENGLISH VOGUES ON

The latest in men's styles are usually the rule rather than the exception among Harvard men. Greatest demand now is for soft stuffs of grays or mixtures, cut in English way.

Coats, two buttoned or occasionally three, are shaped low on the hips. The back, almost boxed, is without vent. Lapels are wide and notched and rolled.

Old-timers, who remember the styles of sixty years or so ago, have recognized these coats, given vogue by the Prince of Wales, as reincarnations from other days. And the impression is strengthened as they glimpses the vest; the newest one is blunt.

GRAY HAT PREVAILS.

Trousers, however, are an innovation. They hang wide and full from the hips to a big cuff—built for a man who is accustomed to look as if he were going somewhere. But in former days they were tight, and if the man in question went anywhere very fast, it was at his own risk.

Gray is the prevailing color for hats, which often have a rather flat brim that can be flipped down. But like a certain brook, brown hats go on forever, especially at Harvard, Derbies are not unusual, as they are in most of the colleges that have tendencies toward corduroys.

Shoes? Brogues in heavy light-colored leather, of course.

2 VERMONT MEN DENY LARCENY FROM CHURCH

Burlington, Vt., Nov. 7.—The story of the desecration of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception by alleged Ku Klux Klan men will be thrashed out in the Chittendon County court because of the not guilty pleas of William McCready and Gordon Wells. Both are charged with larceny of articles from the church. Surprise was caused by the men's pleas, as it was expected they would confess guilt, following the guilty plea made by William C. Moyer, a Klux kleagle of Tennessee, also implicated in the raid on the church.

Selection of a jury to hear the cases of McCready and Wells began today. Sentencing of Moyer is not expected until after the trial.

ROXBURY MAN SLASHES THROAT IN PITTSBURG

Pittsburg, Nov. 7.—While walking along Bigelow boulevard early this morning, Michael O'Connell, twenty-eight years old, of Roxbury, Mass., slashed his throat with a razor. The man was found lying on the sidewalk in a pool of blood by a motorcycle policeman, who took him to Western Pennsylvania Hospital.

Surgeons took twelve stitches in a wound in O'Connell's throat. The man's condition was reported as serious.

PHALANX CLUB AGAIN HALED INTO COURT

Charged With Being Disorderly; Directors Will Pick Man to Rnswer Accusation

The Phalanx Orchestral Club of No. 2150 Washington street, Roxbury, has at various times in court been styled a "progressive" but it has never been called dull. Life moves fast at this organization's headquarters, frequented by both negroes and white persons.

It was summoned to court again today, charge d with maintaining a disorderly house between September 1 and October 27 of this year, but none of its officers were arraigned.

The case will be continued on November 25, after the directors have designated one of the officers to plead.

Many times in the past the club has figured in court proceedings. Judge Palmer in Roxbury Court found the officers not guilty of selling liquor when they were brought before him last May. At the same time he asserted that such establishments attract and undesirable class of persons and that he would shut up the place as a nuisance if he could, but was forced to judge the case on the evidence.

Orders were issued to Boston policemen last Spring to keep away from the club except in the performance of duty and six who were said to have violated these instructions were brought up on charges.

Sun to Hide Face From Boston for Hour on Jan. 25

Boston will lose an hour of daylight on January 25, when there will be a total eclipse of the sun visible in Southern New England.

Luna, that astronomical flapper, will be the cause of it. The shadow of the moon will almost completely obscure the sunlight.

Only once in a great while does Luna get away with this. The last total eclipse of the sun in New England was in 1478. That was fourteen years before Columbus found America.

The eclipse will come about 9 o'clock in the morning and last about one hour. The shadow will be greatest, obscuring 99-100 of the sun at 9:08 a. m.

'CANDY' TRUCK, RUM LADEN, SEIZED WITH TWO MEN

After keeping close watch for six months on a truck labeled "Confectioners' Wholesale and Retail" police swooped it today in a garage at No. 79 Pleasant street, that city. In it, they say, they found 75 gallons of Scotch whiskey and 14 cases of champagne. Donald Whora and Joseph Mooney, both of No. 20 Lloyd street, were arrested charged with transporting and storing liquor. The police had shadowed up on mysterious runs from the garage. Each night the speedometer showed sixteen miles, but early today showed only a mile and a half, so it is believed it carried no load only from the Lynn waterfront.

CIVIL WAR VET, DEAF, KILLED BY TRAIN

Walter Harding, 76 Years Old, Run Over on B. & M. in Wakefield

Walter Harding, 76-year-old Civil War veteran, was killed today by a train on the Boston-bound track of the Boston & Maine Railroad near Greenwood station in Wakefield.

The veteran lived at No. 10 Crystal street, Greenwood, and was deaf. It is believed he became confused and wandered from the road to the railroad track.

The engineer of another inbound train sighted the body lying beside the track and notified the crossing tender, who said he had seen a dark object at the spot, 150 yards distant, for nearly an hour, but had believed it to be an old keg.

Harding is survived by his widow and three sons, Edward Harding of Malden, Raymore Harding of Providence, and Lawrence Harding.

MAN BREAKS ARM IN LEAP OFF WARREN BRIDGE

Joseph Hitchens, thirty, of Lowell, is at the Haymarket Relief Station today suffering from a fractured arm and contusions and bruises, following what the police believe to be an attempt at suicide when he leaped from Warren bridge, Charlestown. Instead of landing in the water, Hitchens' body hit a structure 30 feet below.

HORSES, HEADS COVERED, LED FROM BLAZE

Seven horses housed in a stable attached to the office of the Highland Coal Company, at the junction of Winchester and Harvard streets, South Medford, were rescued by Patrolmen Kerwin and McGrath of the Medford police, during a fire early today. The office of the company was destroyed.

The two patrolmen, at much risk to themselves, entered the stable which was already ablaze and obtaining bags, covered the heads of the horses and led the animals to safety. The stable was partially destroyed. Damage amounted to about $4,000.

The fire is believed to have been caused by an overheated furnace.

ELLIS WAINWRIGHT, EX-BREWER, DEAD

St. Louis, Nov. 7.—Ellis Wainwright, former brewer and once considered one of St. Louis' wealthiest men, died at a hotel here of hardening of the arteries. He was seventy-four years old. He was one of those indicted in 1902 in the so-called "boodle" investigation, involving the lower house of the City Council. The case was dropped when it was found the witnesses had died.

BISHOP 'SIGNS OFF' AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

New England radio fans who are wont to tune in on station 1XP at Athol, will find the "mike" silent there tonight.

Leon Wilbur Bishop, thirty-six, one of the best-known radio men of New England, signed off late Thursday night, to leave many thousands of fans mourning him. Bishop died at his parents' home after a long and game battle with ill health.

Besides conducting an experimental radio station, Bishop was a radio authority of considerable note, contributing to radio magazines throughout the country. During the war he was engaged in submarine wireless work and recently was offered employment in an advisory capacity by the General Electric Company. Failure to regain his health resulted in the rejection of the offer.

The funeral will be conducted by the Rev. Fred Estes of the Methodist Church and interment will be in Dana Centre Cemetery. Bishop leaves a mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Baxter L. Bishop.

CARDINAL O'CONNELL LAUDS BASKET FUND

ARCHBISHOP'S HOUSE
CHANNEL STREET
BOSTON

November 1st, 1924.

Mr. John W. English, Director,
Boston American Christmas Basket Fund,
Hearst Building,
Winthrop Square,
Boston, Mass.

Dear Mr. English:—

I have received your communication of October 29th, informing me that the Boston American will appeal again this year for a Christmas Basket Fund. I sincerely hope that your appeal will meet with its accustomed success.

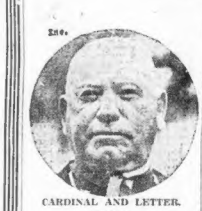
The spirit of charity which characterizes the holy days of Christmastide should prompt everyone to bring real cheer and joy to the hearts of the needy and the poor. The good work accomplished in the past by the Christmas Basket Fund for the indigent should recommend your present appeal to all.

May those then, who are blessed with the goods of this earth, manifest their Christmas spirit and bring their happiness to others by contributing to your worthy cause this year.

I enclose my contribution to the fund.

Very sincerely yours,

W. Card. O'Connell
Abp. Boston



CARDINAL AND LETTER.

URGES AID FOR AMERICAN'S CHARITY

Cardinal O'Connell, head of the Catholic Church in Massachusetts, today indorsed the Helping Hand Christmas Basket Fund of the Boston American, which provides free dinners to thousands of needy families each year in their homes on Christmas Day.

In addition to indorsing the work of the fund in glowing terms, Cardinal O'Connell sent his personal check for twenty dollars.

URGES ALL TO GIVE.

In his letter to the Christmas Fund director, the cardinal says that the good work accomplished in the past for the needy of Greater Boston should recommend the fund to everyone. He says he sincerely hopes this season's appeal for funds will meet with greater success than any in the past. He hopes all persons in a position to contribute will do so and thus bring happiness to the less fortunate.

Cardinal O'Connell's letter follows:

"I have received your communication of October 29, informing me that the Boston American will appeal again this year for a Christmas Basket Fund. I sincerely hope that your appeal will meet with its accustomed success.

"The spirit of charity which characterizes the holy days of Christmastide should prompt everyone to bring real cheer and joy to the hearts of the needy and the poor. The good work accomplished in the past by the Christmas Basket Fund for the indigent should recommend your present appeal to all.

"May those, then, who are blessed with the goods of this earth, manifest their Christmas spirit and bring their happiness to others by contributing to your worthy cause this year.

"I enclose my contribution to the fund. Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) "W. CARD. O'CONNELL."

HAS FED 315,000.

Some idea of the extent of the work done by this fund may be gleaned from the fact that it fed 52,000 persons last Christmas and has fed 315,000 persons in their homes during the past ten years.

This season's fund is headed by the sum of $338.89, which represents the balance from last year. To this has been added interest at 6 per cent., amounting to $20.34.

The fund at present stands:

|---|---|
| Balance | $339.99 |
| Interest | 20.34 |

TWO KILLED IN DUEL OVER LOVE OF WIFE

Vacant Room in Pittsburgh Is Used as a "Field of Honor"

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7.—A vacant room in a Forbes street building here was used as "a field of honor" by two Frenchmen today—and when the smoke of the battle cleared the men lay dead on the floor, each with a bullet in his head.

Pierre Biagioli was called upon by J. N. Fournaire, a French baker, to explain attentions alleged to have been paid to Fournaire's wife, Georgette, the mother of two children.

Fournaire spent the last two months in jail on a serious charge lodged by a fourteen-year-old girl. He was released on bail yesterday.

Police reports were that Fournaire, after killing Biagioli, shot himself.

REDS TO MARCH ON EMBASSY OF U. S. IN PARIS

Police Reserves Called Out to Break Up Sacco-Vanzetti Protest Parade

Paris, Nov. 7 (AP).—A communist and anarchist manifestation against the conviction of first degree murder at Dedham, Mass., of Niccola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, is scheduled to take place here tonight.

A large number of radicals will gather under the windows of the American Embassy in the Rue de Chaillot and demand the release of the two prisoners who were convicted of having killed Paymaster Parmenter and guard in a payroll robbery in 1921 at South Braintree, Mass.

A general meeting of communists and anarchists has been called for 8 o'clock at the workers' house in the Rue de la Grange Aux Belles and the present intention is to force the manifestants parade to the American Embassy.

The Parisian prefect of police has called out the reserves to protect the American Embassy, but Sheldon Whitehouse, American Charge d'Affaires, has asked for no police protection.

About 5,000 Communitas and radicals, it is expected, will meet at the Workers' House and will march on the embassy, but the prefect of police has announced that the gathering will be scattered by 200 police agents who have been assigned to look after the embassy.

KANE POST TO HOLD BALL ON MONDAY

The fifth annual Victory Ball of Francis G. Kane Post, American Legion, will be held Monday evening at Bloomfield Hall, Geneva avenue, Dorchester. Much interest is being taken of the selection of "Miss Dorchester." The Mayor's Trophy is being offered as the prize and will be presented by Mayor Curley. "Miss Dorchester" will be chosen during the grand march, which will start at 11:15 p. m.

Many other attractions are being planned, including observance of the Zero Hour, at which time due honor and respect will be paid to those who made the supreme sacrifice. Rev. Denis J. Maguire of St. Ambrose Church, chaplain of the post, will deliver the oration.

The committee in charge of arrangements is headed by William J. Mitchell, Jr.

Many novel numbers will be introduced, among them a solo dance by five-year-old Betty Riley, in a costume the colors of the American Legion; a dance on tiptoe by tiny Florence Maffeo, and eccentric numbers by Dolly Conway, Esther O'Leary, Rose Gamelli, Dorothy Bannister, Elinor Glison and Rose Gamelli.

—POIRET TWILL and JERSEY frocks for the business girl follow more or less tailored lines, with linen collar and cuffs, steel buttons, colored embroideries.

—VELVET and SATIN CANTON makes afternoon frocks that spell school girl demureness or hint of Paris sophistication, many displaying a touch of metal.

For Evening—

—Fashion turns to the lighter shades and the evening mode of rainbow colors. Sometimes, not satisfied with one color alone, a frock chooses an ombre effect and shades in tones from very light to a deep colored border.

—Metal, as in afternoon frocks, is a favored trimming touch, and Val laces, velvet ribbons and clever hand made flowers add further color contrast.

RAILROAD MEN OPEN LABOR BOARD FIGHT

Cleveland, Nov. 7 (AP)—Chief executives and representatives of twenty railroad brotherhoods and affiliated organizations will meet here tomorrow to discuss the Howell-Barkley bill and decide a course of action, it is announced. The bill seeks to abolish the Railroad Labor Board. It is the first bill on the calendar when Congress reconvenes. Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said the meeting would discuss all pending labor legislation in Congress.

WOMAN MYSTERIOUSLY VANISHES FROM HOME

Mystery surrounds the sudden disappearance of pretty Mrs. Beadie Bliss, wife of Edward Bliss of No. 213 Harrison avenue, who left her home at 7 A. M. Tuesday, and had not been heard from since that time.

Assistance has been asked by Mrs. Thomas Kelly, mother of the missing woman, in her efforts to learn some trace of her daughter. The disappearance has almost ill-ed both the mother and husband.

For two years Mrs. Bliss, who is forty years old, has been under treatment from time to time at a local hospital.

CLAGGETT WAS GIVEN BIG VOTE IN BOSTON

Alonzo Cook, Mowever, Defeated Democratic Candidate for State Auditor

While the completed election returns have spent Strabo V. Claggett's hopes of beating Alonzo B. Cook for the office of State Auditor, the Democratic candidate was today deriving considerable satisfaction on learning that he had ran only about 5,000 votes behind Mayor Curley in Boston.

The unofficial vote for State Auditor was as follows:

Boston, with two precincts missing, Cook, Republican, 60,669; Claggett, Democrat 117,259. Other cities: Cook, 258,616; Claggett, 222,801. Towns, estimated: Cook, 195,938; Claggett, 122,418.

Claggett apparently lost only two Boston wards to Cook—7 and 23—and these are Republican strongholds.

La Follette's chances of reducing the Coolidge lead in North Dakota are very slim, according to the Associated Press.

He must gain 32 votes in each of the remaining 284 precincts to be heard from to overcome the President's lead.

VETS REFUSE TO PUT OFF DRIVE FOR FUNDS

Defy Chamber of Commerce on Charges Disabled Men Do Not Benefit

In reply to the Chamber of Commerce charge that only a fraction of their funds were actually expended on disabled veterans, the Disabled American War Veterans of the World War have announced that their Forget-Me-Not drive will be carried out tomorrow, as originally planned.

The Chamber of Commerce, in an open letter to the Veterans' organization, asked that the Forget-Me-Not drive be postponed for two weeks, until an audit of the books of the organization is completed.

The Chamber of Commerce also charged irregularities in the books of the Boston Chapter of the veterans' organization and declared that funds were raised on various bogus pretexts, such as a dance which was never held, an Armistice Day celebration which was never held, a State Department Year Book which was never printed, etc.

According to officers of the Veterans' organization, the first trouble over the drive started when the Chamber of Commerce objected to the personnel of the committee in charge of the drive plans. This committee, originally consisted of Mrs. Nathaniel P. Emmons, as chairman; Dr. Patrick I. Kelley, Raison officer for the Veterans' organization at the Boston office of the United States Veterans' Bureau, and P. D. Walker, Jr., State commander of the Veterans' organization.

NEW BOARD NAMED.

The Chamber of Commerce objected to this committee on the ground that Mrs. Emmons was connected with the drive of a year ago, and Dr. Kelley is closely allied with the Disabled Veterans' organization.

As a result, a new committee was appointed, composed of Miss Sophie Friedman, suggested by the Board of Overseer of Public Welfare, State Commander Walker and a representative of the State Street Trust Company, the depository designated for the funds secured in the drive.

According to the veterans, the Chamber of Commerce officials refused to withdraw objection to the drive, despite the change in committee personnel.

"We submit that such action indicates clearly an intent on the part of the Chamber of Commerce, prompted by some agency which will be touched on later, to wreck the No. 8 drive, willy-nilly," says a statement issued by the officers of the veterans' organization.

The veterans insist that the original committee was satisfactory to the Chamber of Commerce until the last minute.

MAKE NO REPLY.

The veterans make no mention in their reply of the charge of irregularity contained in the Chamber of Commerce statement.

The Chamber of Commerce statement declares that of the $18,000 collected in last year's drive, $6,000 went to cover the expenses of the drive, including the amounts paid the solicitors and that nearly as large amount went to the state and national organization, while almost $2,000 was expended for general office salaries and other expenses, leaving $3,152.49 to the actually expended on crippled veterans. The charge is also made that reports of the veterans made at three different times to two different parties all showed different results.

"Prior to the Forget-Me-Not drive of a year ago, former Chapters of the Disabled Veterans of the World War sold tickets for a dance, when they had not even hired a hall for the purpose. They collected money for an Armistice Day celebration which was not held. The funds were not returned unless very recently indeed. Money has been collected for advertising in a State Department Year Book, which was never printed. Still another Chapter conducted a Mardi Gras, which the police felt constrained to stop while it was in progress.

RIDERS PAY DIME ON 'L' 6-CENT CAR

The anger and protests of trolley patrons over the working of the six-cent fare and strip ticket plan grows apace.

A near riot resulted on a Clarendon Hill-Lechmere square car line when a conductor made every short-ride passenger pay a full 10-cent fare because he happened to be out of six-cent tickets.

"Put a dime in the coin box or get off the car," was the ultimatum of the conductor.

The patrons knew they were being mulcted and resented it, but to no avail.

"I ain't got any tickets, so what are you going to do but pay a dime. You can't work any six-cent fares on me," the conductor shouted at the irate patrons.

GEN. GARIBALDI ASKS KING TO CURB FASCISTS

Declares Members of "Italia Libera" Were Victims of Cowardly Attack

Chiasso, Italo-Swiss Frontier, Nov. 7 (A.P.)—In consequence of the Armistice Day disorders in the Piazza Popolo, Rome, between Fascisti and members of the "Italia Libera," an organization of dissident Fascisti, the general committee of the latter organization, as well as General Peppino Garibaldi, grandson of the great Italian patriot, have issued manifestos protesting against what they term the unwarranted attack by the Fascisti upon unarmed ex-soldiers, and accusing Premier Mussolini of being personally responsible.

General Garibaldi in his manifesto said:

"Thousands of combatants, while celebrating the anniversary of the victory in Rome, were cowardly assaulted, revolver shots coming from an ambush prepared and carried out by members of the Fascisti militia."

General Garibaldi declared he would demand that the King free Italy from turbulent factions and insure to all "that peace which since the end of the war has been vainly invoked."

General Rini Challenges Garibaldi to Duel

Rome, Nov. 7.—General V. Rini of the militia today challenged General Garibaldi to a duel as the result of Garibaldi's censored manifesto charging the militia with responsibility for the attack on former service men during the Fascisti celebration.

Deputy San Sebastiano, who holds Italy's highest decoration for war valor, delivered a letter to the Fascisti premier declaring he had definitely decided to withdraw from the Fascisti party.

His retirement intensifies the crucial situation existing between the government and the soldiers, who charge that the black shirts tore medals from soldiers' tunics during the Fascisti celebration.

$6,836,000,000 PAID BY U. S. IN PENSIONS

Washington, Nov. 7.—Wars in which the United States has taken part since 1790, exclusive of the World War, have cost the nation more than $6,836,000,000 in pensions.

Pensions for the Civil War totaled $6,427,000,000. It was shown in figures announced today by the Interior Department, while those growing out of the Indian wars amounted to $25,000,000. Pensions for other wars include $46,000,000 for the War of 1812, $70,000,000 for the War of the Revolution, $56,000,000 for the Mexican War, and $124,000,000 for the war with Spain.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR KOREAN REVOLUTIONIST

Tokio, Nov. 7 (A.P.)—Kinshi She, a Korean, who, on the night of January 5 last, dropped three bombs, none of which exploded, near the entrance to the Imperial Palace here, has been sentenced to life imprisonment.

Two Japanese, accomplices of the Korean, were sentenced to seven years and six months' imprisonment, respectively.

The evidence produced at the trial showed that Kinshi She was a member of the "Provisional Korean Government."

COLLEGE FOOTBALL STAR GONE THREE WEEKS

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Du Page County authorities have been asked to search for Danny Place, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Place of Hinsburg, Pa., and star end of the Wheaton football team, who disappeared from the Campus of the suburban school, near here, three weeks ago.

U. S. AGENTS ARREST PENNSYLVANIA ALIENS

Wilkes Barre, Pa., Nov. 7.—Agents of the Immigration Bureau at Washington are combing Luzerne County for aliens alleged to have obtained entry illegally into the United States. The agents had warrants for 150 persons and 75 arrests already have been made.

FRANCE MAY RELEASE AND EXPEL YOUNG REID

Paris, Nov. 7 (Universal Cable).—Efforts are being made to secure the release of Aldrew Reid, the young Baltimore society man who is held in Sante Prison for the alleged failure to obey an edict of expulsion pronounced by the French courts two years ago. It is understood that Reid may shortly be released and conducted to the frontier.

MANY AMERICANS ARE IN SWITZERLAND NOW

Zurich, Nov. 7 (A.P.)—Zurich, this season, like most other Swiss cities, has had more American visitors than any other period in history. At the height of the season when all the hotels and pensions were filled every night, the city authorities turned a school house over to be used temporarily for sleeping quarters for the travelers.

COOLIDGE SLATED TO SPEAK IN LOUISIANA

New Orleans, La., Nov. 7.—President Coolidge has accepted an invitation from a group of business men to visit New Orleans and probably two other cities of the State, it was announced today by Emile Kuntz, Republican, National Committeeman from Louisiana. Mr. Kuntz stated he had received a letter from the President acknowledging the invitation and promising to accept as soon as possible.

Judge's Ruling Gets Autoist Suspended Sentence

Concord, N. H., Nov. 7.—In the Superior Court, Judge William H. Sawyer ruled that a person convicted of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, and punished therefor under the law of 1921, cannot be prosecuted for a second offense when arraigned under the law of 1923 on the same subject.

Under this ruling, George Dyer of Laconia secured a suspension of a sixty-day jail sentence upon payment of costs. Similar cases are pending in most of the counties of the State, but this is the first ruling on the subject from a superior court justice.

BODY OF UNIDENTIFIED MAN FOUND IN CHANNEL

The body of an unidentified man was recovered from the water of Fort Point Channel, near the city dumping station, and is at Northern Mortuary.

The body is that of a man about 5 ft. 10 in. tall, weighing 200 pounds, light complexion, gray hair and mustache. The body was clad in a brown coat and vest, gray pants, tan shoes blacked over.

A Gleamy Mass of Hair

15c "Danderine" does Wonders for Any Girl's Hair

Girls! Try this! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance.

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a bottle of delightful, refreshing "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair becomes.

TEXAS KU KLUX VOWS REVENGE FOR BURNING

Feud With Antis at High Pitch; Reward for Hall Incendiaries

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 7 (Universal).—Smouldering embers of bitterness, kindled by the recent stirring Klan and anti-Klan political campaign, leaped literally into flame here with the burning of the Fort Worth Klavern, a $100,000 auditorium, and today the old feud is at high pitch again.

Incendiarism is openly charged by the Klan and its secret agents are striving today to identify the person or persons who applied the fire brand. Reprisals have been vowed while police and fire authorities are conducting an investigation.

Meanwhile, feeling is as high as in the days of River Bottom floggings and masked tar bucket "parties." Ruins of the Klavern were still smouldering when the Klan rushed into print with flaring advertisements, declaring:

REWARD OFFERED.

"The American flag floats today above the smouldering ruins of the finest Klan hall in the nation, but the spirit of the Klan still lives."

Oddly enough the sole object left standing was the flaming cross and on it Klansmen ran up the American flag after the fire had subsided.

Witnesses have been found who claim that the Klan hall was fired by incendiary bombs filled with gasoline. Three distinct explosions were heard before Klavern burst into flame, say these informants. The Klan has offered a reward of $500 for information leading to detection of the incendiarists.

Feeling against the Klan has been growing since the election, extremists among anti-Klan Democrats blaming Klan politicians for Tarrant County, of which Fort Worth is the seat, going "Republican" for the first time.

SEE REPRISAL.

Tarrant County gave Dr. Butte, G. O. P. gubernatorial candidate, a substantial majority over "Ma" Ferguson, arch-foe of the Klan.

Other Klan centres—Dallas, Houston, Beaumont—did likewise, and although Mrs. Ferguson was elected, unbiased observers agree it was the Klan strength thrown to Dr. Butte that made a Republican candidate at all formidable in Texas in any election.

Klan leaders therefore charge that a desire for reprisal on the part of some extremist or extremists inspired the firing of the Klan hall.

MRS. COOLIDGE WILL ATTEND B. U. CEREMONY

Mrs. Calvin Coolidge will be the guest at the formal ceremonies of the induction into office of Mrs. Lucy Jenkins Franklin as dean of women of Boston University, which will take place on Friday, December 12. Mrs. Coolidge has formally accepted the invitation of the university to be present.

Full details of the program have not as yet been announced, but it is certain that prominent women graduates of Boston University will be present and will take part in the ceremonies. Dr. Marion Talbot, dean of women at the University of Chicago, and Mrs. Andrew D. White of Ithaca, N. Y., wife of the former ambassador to Germany, have accepted invitations to participate in the ceremonies.

"UNKNOWN" SLAYS CONVICT IN PRISON

Auburn, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Arthur Smith, trusty in Auburn prison, was found murdered by an unknown assailant within the prison. Captain E. G. Lamb saw Smith stagger into the yard from the north wing of the cell block and collapse in the yard.

No other convict was seen in the vicinity and Smith died in the prison infirmary without making a statement of any kind. He had been struck with a threecornered weapon which fractured his skull, and a second blow severed the jugular vein.

DESERTED BY SENATOR, SAYS MRS. GERRY

Newport Society Stirred by Paris Report of Divorce Action

Newport, R. I., Nov. 7.—Society was stirred today by the news that Mrs. Peter Goelet Gerry had filed suit for divorce from the Rhode Island Senator in Paris. The charge is desertion.

The Senator and his wife have long been known as leaders of the smart set of Newport, Washington and New York. Mrs. Gerry was Mathilde Townsend, daughter of Richard H. Townsend of Washington and Philadelphia, and was the reigning beauty in Washington for many seasons.

Although it was reported from Paris that Mrs. Goelet was living in the South of France, her friends here believe that she is now in the United States.

The Senator was well known as a society man, coaching whiz, polo player, lawyer, scientist and philanthropist before he was chosen to represent Rhode Island in 1916. He comes of a family of old Americans. His great grandfather was signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Mrs. Goelet's marriage to Peter Goelet Gerry on May 27, 1910, after a short courtship, came as a surprise to Washington society, for she had shown a disposition to decline all offers of matrimony, which included some from very eligible men in both Europe and America, one of which was said to have been the Duke D'Alba.

ONE KILLED, 5 HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

New Bedford, Nov. 7.—One man was killed and five others were injured—one dangerously, three seriously—when an automobile got out of control in South Dartmouth, hit a telegraph pole and overturned.

Joseph Laroque, thirty-six years old, of No. 128 Cove street, New Bedford, died a few minutes after the accident. Manuel J. Martin of No. 147 Clara street, the driver, is at St. Luke's Hospital on the danger list with two broken legs and internal injuries. John Di Mollo of No. 74 Nelson street, is at the hospital with a broken leg. Henry Baudin of No. 926 South Water street and Garris V. Desjardins of 1163 South Water street, have fractured collarbones. Alma Pelequin of No. 1010 South Water street has suffered bad cuts.

SOVIET ENTERS CLAIM TO ARCTIC ISLANDS

Moscow, Nov. 7 (I.N.S.).—George Tchitcherin, commisar for foreign affairs in the Soviet government, today despatched notes to the foreign powers formally announcing Russia's claims to all Arctic Islands off the northern coast of Siberia. Russia threatens to "demand satisfaction from all governments supporting claims in opposition to those of the Soviet.

BUDDHISTS FACE TRIAL FOR ATTACK ON GLEASON

Rangoon, Burma, Nov. 7.—The Buddhist Monks accused of complicity in the attack last month on Professor P. R. Gleason, a missionary attached to Judson College, Rangoon, and Mrs. Gleason, today were committed for trial, charged with having attempted to murder Professor and Mrs. Gleason and with having caused them grievous injuries.

DIRECTOR OF FAILED BANK IS CONVICTED

Toronto, Nov. 7.—Clarence F. Smith of Montreal, one of the directors of the Home Bank of Canada, which failed in 1922 for $18,000,000, was found guilty today by County Judge Contsworth of negligently signing or approving a false return to the government. Sentence w sdeferred.

Seeks Divorce

MRS. PETER GOELET GERRY
Wife of Rhode Island Senator has sued him for divorce in Paris.

"TWO-GUN GIRL" SEIZED IN VETS' POST HOLDUP

New York, Nov. 7.—Beatrice Kaufman, twenty-year-old bobbed-haid blonde, was arrested in Brooklyn today as the "two-gun" woman confederate of four non bandits who held up the Kings County Post of the Veterans of the World War last Saturday night and robbed fifteen members of jewelry and cash totaling $2,500. Two men also were arrested. The girl sat in an automobile outside the post's quarters, detectives said, and prevented interference with the holdup by displaying two revolvers.

QUART OF WATER CLEANS KIDNEYS

Take Jad Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder Is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, begin drinking a quart of water each day; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

LEGION DESIRES PEACE, HEAD TELLS COOLIDGE

Washington, Nov. 7.—President Coolidge today made public a letter from James A. Drain, national commander of the American Legion, who assured him that "your appeals" are in the observance of Armistice Day are the sentiments of the Legion. Mr. Drain's letter was in reply to a communication from the President, who suggested that the Legion emphasize the need of peace in its Armistice Day celebration. The Legion desires peace, its commander wrote, and strives for peace, "as its opportunities for acquainting itself with the alternative of peace have been exceptional."

WOMAN GETS 10 YEARS FOR KILLING HUSBAND

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 7.—Sentence of ten years was imposed on Mrs. Kovka Kominsky by Justice Ives in the criminal court today after a jury had brought in a verdict of manslaughter.

Mrs. Kominsky murdered her husband, Joseph Kominsky, with a monkey wrench at Red Water last June.

AIR FLAGSHIP CHICAGO ON WAY TO WINDY CITY

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 7.—After a night's rest here, the Chicago, flagship of the three army planes that encircled the globe, tok the air at 8:35 o'clock this morning for Chicago, where Captain Lowell Smith, commander of the flight, said that the plane would be placed on exhibition. The other two ships of the round-the-world squadron, the New Orleans and the Boston II., which are flying to New Orleans, spent last night at San Antonio.

NEW PIANOS
AT USED PIANO PRICES

FIVE CARLOADS OF BRAND NEW PIANOS—including baby grands, players and uprights—direct from our factories to you, are now offered in the most gigantic piano sale of our history.

Our new manufacturing policy—concentrating on fewer models and combining our three factories into two massive plants—makes possible this unsurpassed value-giving sale right in the height of the season.

Over 90 brand new pianos, in beautiful styles, at astoundingly low prices, make this sale the opportunity of a lifetime to please the family with a new piano.

Beautiful Baby Grands

ARTISTIC designing, beautiful toning and genuine inbuilt quality account for the extreme popularity of these Hoffman Baby Grands.

Boston music lovers, we believe, have never before had such an opportunity to secure reliable baby grands at these unequalled values. Regularly sold at $725 to $900.

Reduced to $595 and $650
Terms as low as $5.00 per week

Player Pianos for Everybody

THESE PLAYER PIANOS bring true harmony into the home, for the whole family can play and enjoy them. Dad, mother and the children will all be delighted with one of these favorite players, for clearness of tone, easy action and beautiful design make them welcome members of the family.

You can give your family the lasting joy of one of these beautiful player pianos now, for their price is no more than you'd usually pay for a used piano. Being manufacturers, we can give you this exceedingly big reduction. Regularly sold at $750 and $850.

Reduced to $495 and $550
Terms as low as $3.50 per week

Twenty Upright Pianos In Rare Woods

THESE ARTISTIC Henry F. Miller uprights, built of rare woods by the same skilled craftsmen and master piano makers that build our highest priced pianos, have all of the quality and prestige which the world famous Henry F. Miller name implies.

With their beautiful tones, artistically designed cases and fine quality, these are truly wonderful pianos that will bring a lifetime of joy to your home. No better upright piano is made, no matter what the price. Dull or polished finish. Because we are manufacturers we can offer them to you at this extraordinarily low price.

Regularly sold at $750. Reduced to $525
Terms as low as $3.00 per week

Popular Upright Pianos

BEAUTIFULLY designed and finished, sweetly toned, and skillfully built in our own factories, these charming upright pianos will harmonize splendidly with their surroundings in your home.

They are fine home pianos that will bring joy to the whole family. When you have seen and heard them at our music rooms you will be astounded by their low prices. Regularly sold for $475 and $550.

Reduced to $275 and $325
Terms as low as $2.00 per week

Small Cash Payment
ANY of these brand new pianos can be purchased with a moderate first payment and terms low enough to suit your convenience. These unsurpassed low prices and comfortable terms make this the chance of a lifetime to give your family the joy of a beautiful piano. Call today and see these wonderful instruments.

We Have the Piano You Want
IN ADDITION to these five carloads of brand new pianos we have several slightly used pianos returned to us from summer cottages and used pianos taken in exchange for Henry F. Miller Grands. You will surely find just the piano you want at the price you can afford to pay.

STRENGTH AND VITALITY CREATED BY RED BLOOD

The strength, vitality and nerve power of every man and woman depend on the boast. Red blood is the supreme driving force of life. When we lack strength we should think first of our blood. When we have rich, red blood we quickly regain strength. Weak, thin-blooded men and women can find an easy, safe way to create red blood.

Wincarnis gives to the blood the very elements from which red blood is created. For fifty years this blood builder has restored men and women who were lacking in life power.

If your body vitality is at low ebb, your system undernourished, or your nerve force exhausted, go to your druggist today and begin the Wincarnis treatment. A liqueur wineglass, which is a ten days Wincarnis treatment, is sold by all leading druggists for $1.10. Double size, $1.95. Wincarnis is so effective that only three tablespoonfuls a day need be taken. Try Wincarnis at once and see the strength that just a few days will bring.

STORING VITAMINS

The average healthy person stores up within the body several days' supply of essential vitamins. This explains why a well-nourished person of any age is less susceptible to germ-infection than those who are malnourished.

Scott's Emulsion

is a safety-factor that helps keep you well-nourished. A very little used daily to complement the regular diet, activates with essential vitamins and helps build resistance.

Store up a reserve of essential vitamins—take Scott's regularly.

This system works for you

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1

Pay day. First of the month. A short banking-day, 9 to 12.

For three hours that morning, through the entrance to our main banking floor, came an average of one customer every five seconds.

About 2,000 of these 2,160 callers made for the receiving-paying tellers' windows.

At those 15 windows, under our new system, tellers were handling receipts and payments for 7 alphabetical sections. By this system you deal always with the same tellers at the same section. You know them. They know you.

Saturday, November 1, was a peak-test of the system. At no time during the forenoon were there more than 5 people of the 2,000 in line at any one window, and the average was much lower.

This is a small part of the orderly machinery of a great bank. To route 2,000 customers by the tellers' windows in 3 hours is to us not so significant as the fact that every one of those 2,000 completed his business swiftly and surely.

All the rest of the machinery of this bank will work for you just as swiftly and surely. The officers and staff want to show it to you.

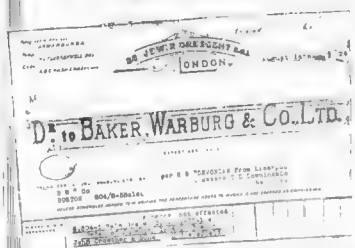
75 YEARS A STORE FOR MEN AND BOYS

Sullivan's



This bill briefly tells the story of a truly sensational purchase. It is just such merchandising methods as this that keeps Sullivan's stores swinging ahead at a record breaking selling pace.

John Crouther & Sons', Huddersfield, England, rich, royal, plaid coatings, plaid backs and plaid faces, shaggy, hairy English Coatings, made up in Great Coats, Ulsters and Single Breasted Fly Front Coats.

The commission man who imported these goods sold them to me at a great loss on account of lateness of the season. I have cut and made them up and placed them in Sullivan's line of Overcoats, as fine a coat as any ready-made line in the city of Boston boasts for prices twice or three times as much as Sullivan's.

In my store at 9 Boylston St., where I am open evenings until 9 o'clock and Saturdays until 10 o'clock, and my Adams Sq. store at 162 Washington St., open Saturday evenings only, I am showing a thousand styles of Plaid Back, Plaid Face, and through and through coatings, ready to wear.

I show in my windows the finest suits and overcoats in Boston at a price of $25.00. Anything in my windows can be had for the asking and if you want the garments in the window they will be taken out upon request.

BOBBIE AND HIS PA

By W. F. Kirk

I HAVE been thinking, sed Pa to Ma last nite, that we do not give enuff praise to the humbel farmers of our nashun.

I dount know, sed Ma, they seam to be getting along quite famus, sed Ma. Sum of them have got finer cars than ours, sed Ma.

There is other things besides cars in this world, sed Pa, strainge as it mite seam to you.

I like that, sed Ma. One wud think I was car crazy.

I dident mean to say that, sed Pa, kind of quick.

You better not meen to say that, sed Ma. I cud git along splendid by my self if we never had a car. I talk fitful pleesher out of owning a car wen I see all the poor people walking. But you dount see many farmers walking, sed Ma.

They hav to hav cars, sed Pa, they live so far away.

I note they feel all the cars & good close etc. that they want, sed Ma, & yet you here all about the poor farmers. I think they lot is a much happyer lot than the lot of a lot of people that live on city lots, sed Ma.

That is a lot of lots you have just uttered, sed Pa. Do not fret & fewed over the model farmers, for I am in what a lil of thirdless pesant say but if our farmers fale, sed Pa, we go into this new nashun. We mian set, sed Pa, remember that.

Ma laffed. I see now why you are worrying the sed to Pa. You are afraid the farmers will go on a strike & you wont be abel to git food for your deer stummick. I see it all now, sed Ma. Bobbie, sed Ma, I do hope that wen you grow up you will think of sumthing finer & nobbler things than food, sed Ma.

I will think of nuthler things than food, sed Bobbie, wen I grow up, sed. At most time I will think of food like everybody else.

I quite have expected that, reeply sed Ma. You are a true son of your noshul size, sed Ma. Yure stum mick is pure tanguel of wordship, sed Ma.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Dr. F. X. Mahoney
Boston Health Commissioner

Dr. Mahoney.

IF your child is "not feeling well" do not send him to school.

When sickness or indisposition comes, do not hesitate about calling your physician. Promptness in this matter will save time, weariness and trouble.

Any sickness among your children should at once be reported to your physician.

Overcrowded cars, halls and theatres are not the proper en vironment for the infants or the child. If you are the child's guardian, guard it against disease—direct it in the pathways of health and strength.

Sore throats, running noses, rashes, etc., are often forerunners of disease. It is your duty to detect these symptoms and provide for them. Do not be guilty of culpable negligence.

The instructions you receive from the Health Department should be respected as far as the health of your child and the community need what they says, read the literature that he gives you, and keep the sick child isolated. Never touch the sign or seal that is left on your door as a warning of contagious disease. Children at home must be afforded as much protection as the child at school. The good of all is involved. Medical inspection will discover all cases of communicable disease.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Do you know of anything that I could get to cure my mother of rheumatism? She has taken so many things and does not seem to get much better.
W. J. G.
Boston.

It would not be possible for me to prescribe for the treatment of rheumatism without knowing the cause of the trouble. I would advise that you take your mother to your family physician for complete physical examination. If you have not a family physician, would recommend that you go to the outpatient department of the Boston City Hospital or the Massachusetts General Hospital for examination and treatment.

Would it be safe for me to allow my baby to have splendid results at the age of ages?
Hanson. MRS. R.

I suggest that you be entirely guided in this matter by the advice of your family physician or the surgeon whom you have consulted.

I want to add ten or fifteen pounds to my weight. I am very thin. Please tell me how to do it.
Boston. E. C. L.

You should drink milk and cream as often as possible. Eat more meats with meals. I know of no quicker way to increase weight than by drinking milk.

FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

Americans are the easiest marks in the world for fakers.

Watch out for a new ball. German bonds and stocks.

Steamship companies are doing a good business skimming over hordes of German "promoters" and "financiers" of doubtful pedigree. These likewise hope to get holdings of American dollars in exchange for Made-in-Germany bond and stock certificates of every questionable sort. There having been such a scramble for allies of the German government loan here, the arriving money lenders figure that it should be easy to market their German wares.

So many schemes have been hatched to separate Americans from their money that the American Chamber of Commerce in Germany has issued this warning:

"The gratifying interest evidenced by American bankers and by the American public in German security has which found expression above all in the successful flotation of the reparation loan, is greatly hampered by the difficulty in America of German securities which are entirely unsound and which in no way are suited for investment in foreign countries. We consider it our duty to warn the American public against such investments."

The Germans succeed so well in pulling hundreds of millions of dollars out of the pockets of Americans in exchange for worthless marks that it is not astonishing a similar dodge should now be attempted by hosts of German bonds and stocks. German government authorities and themselves to the colossal scam are also busy. Now, Dr. President Schacht of the Reichsbank has raised alarm over the activities of this new crop of schemers and has declared that, if necessity arises, the nefarious game should be squelched by effective legislation.

In this country a warning has been sounded by Charles E. Mitchell, president of the largest banking institution in the United States. The German schemers are not receiving any cooperation and will not receive any cooperation from such institutions as Mr. Mitchell's National City Bank or the Guaranty Trust Company or the Chase Bank or the Equitable Trust or the Bankers Trust in New York or the big banking institutions and firms in Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco, New Orleans, St. Louis, Los Angeles, Detroit, Cleveland or other leading cities. But, unfortunately, they will contrive to find accomplices in this country who will appear to the unwary to be concerns of repute.

"First pick your bond house, then pick your bonds" is a motto American investors should make their own forthwith.

This column has never coddled wholesale condemnation of foreign borrowing in the United States, for the adequate reason that there are occasions when it is to the interest of this country to lend its money for certain foreign borrowers. Thus, far in 1924 we have floated foreign obligations to the total of a billion dollars. And some foreign loans will be offered which it will be all right for us to buy.

But we are now threatened with a deluge of unsafe securities. Representatives from other countries no doubt will come along and try to sell us to purchase obligations not marketable at home nor the head of spuriousness will be taken by Germany.

Why should Americans rush to lend new billions to foreign governments? Europe borrowed when there are unquestioned attractive investment opportunities inside our own borders? Commenting on what was said in this column the other day about opportunities for investment in the South, Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Manufacturers' Record, Baltimore, writes:

"I am glad to see that you have spoken the opportunities for investment in the South. A few days ago I received a letter from a gentleman in town in Tennessee stating that money in the west could be secured at 6 per cent. If the great surplus funds of New York, which have been loaned to many billions in Germany and to European securities, could be loaned with equal safety investigation of opportunities in the South and West, they would find that there is a field for profitable investment, productive, upbuilding work and for the advancement of the entire country so as far greater relief than can be brought about by investments in Europe, with all of the uncertainties which must inevitably attend loaning the money to Germany and to foreign business interests."

When invited to sink thousand of your hard-earned bonds not upon merit by the highest grade of American investment bankers, but merely by the glowing promises of foreign borrowers, just recall the experience of Colorado, Kansas City (Mo.) Gas Company, Wyandotte County Gas Company (Kansas City, Kans.), The Empire District Electric Company (Southwestern Missouri), St. Joseph (Mo.) Railway, Light, Heat & Power Company.

BOSTON TRADE RESPONDS TO ELECTIONS

By FRANK H. MELOON, Financial Editor.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly Trade Review in this week's issue will say regarding trade conditions in Boston:

"Trade, which was somewhat disrupted by the election, has scarcely begun a discussion to respond to the public mind given by the returns. The wool market has become much stronger, Associated Oil shares and woolens have been increased. Demand is good. Woolen cloth prices are rising, dress goods are more active and orders for early wear are slow.

"Retailers are still very cautious about placing orders for clothing, this being especially true in regard to the heavier lines. Interest is moving more briskly, and women's fancy suitings are in good demand. Cotton dress goods are firm, notwithstanding the small demand. Sales of worsted yarns have been moderate and there appears to be a lack of interest for further advances. The market for cotton yarns is easy, and trade uncertain.

"Prices in the hide and skin market are well maintained, but buying has been quiet. Among the leathers there is more activity in calfskins. Shoe manufacturers are nearly all entering on fall time schedules.

"Dealings in crude rubber continue in still below normal, but conditions are improving. Tanning materials are more active.

"Paper mills are finding the lack of rain a hindrance and pulpwood prices have increased somewhat. Production of newsprint has been well maintained. Chemicals are rather slow, but prices are steady.

"Jobbers are running mostly four or five days a week, and conditions in the metal trades are quiet. Employment conditions improved materially during September, but current demands for labor have fallen off somewhat.

"Distribution of groceries in the New England States is better than it was a year ago, and building permits for September were more than 50 per cent above the amount of those issued in September, 1923.

With the Presidential election over and danger of an upheaval in business somethings attendant upon a change in administration removed, reservations are coming in rapidly for the annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, to be held at the Copley Plaza next Wednesday and Thursday.

Indications point to a largely attended, buoyant, optimistic gathering of manufacturers from all sections of the country whose minds have been relieved of some of the worries that existed prior to election day. While this association is in no sense a political institution, it is made up of big business men who welcome steady business conditions, which they feel are best assured so far as they may be affected by any change in governmental control is concerned.

The session of the convention on Wednesday afternoon is looming up as one of the big details of the business program, for at this point the report of the Federal Trade Commission on the cotton industry will come before the association for consideration for the first time. Those experts will discuss it, one of them from the trade commission itself.

This year's convention will be addressed by upwards of a score of experts, all of whom are nationally prominent in their respective fields of work.

The company agrees to make application in due course to list these bonds on the New York Stock Exchange

The following information has been summarized by Mr. Henry L. Doherty, President of Cities Service Power & Light Company and of Cities Service Company, from his letter:

BUSINESS AND TERRITORY

Cities Service Power & Light Company will acquire from Cities Service Company its entire holdings of common stocks of electric power and light companies and substantially all its holdings of common stocks of gas distributing and street railway companies. These companies comprise a diversified group of public utility operations in fifteen states, serving a population of more than 2,800,000 in over 330 communities. Among the larger cities served are Toledo, Sandusky, Warren, Massillon, Elyria, Lorain, Alliance and Mansfield, Ohio; Denver, Boulder, Pueblo and Fort Collins, Colorado; Kansas City, Joplin, Sedalia and St. Joseph, Missouri; and Kansas City and Topeka, Kansas. These localities represent a wide diversity of industrial and agricultural activities which tends to stabilize the earning power of the group as a whole.

SECURITY

These bonds upon issue will constitute the only funded debt of the company, and will be secured by pledge with the Trustee of an amount of preferred stocks of certain companies and of more than 95% of the common stocks of the following companies (with the exception of common stocks of Kansas City Gas Company and Wyandotte County Gas Company of which more than 60% of each is to be pledged): The Ohio Public Service Company; Toledo Traction, Light & Power Company; The Toledo Edison Company, subsidiary); Public Service Company of Colorado; Kansas City (Mo.) Gas Company; Wyandotte County Gas Company (Kansas City, Kansas); The Empire District Electric Company (southwestern Missouri); St. Joseph (Mo.) Railway, Light, Heat & Power Company.

These companies will comprise the six major operating groups of Cities Service Power & Light Company. The latest reported gross and net operating earnings of these companies represent over 80% of the like earnings of all the subsidiaries presently to be acquired by the company upon sale of any pledged collateral, the proceeds, to the extent and in the manner provided in the Indenture, will be utilized for the retirement of bonds.

EARNINGS

Based on the results of subsidiaries' operations for the twelve months ended June 30, 1924, as certified by Price, Waterhouse & Co., adjusted to give effect to subsequent financing, the combined income applicable to interest is as follows:

| | Twelve Months Ended June 30, 1924 |
|---|---|
| Combined earnings and income of subsidiaries for the 12 months ended June 30, 1924 | $49,100,222 |
| Net earnings after operating expenses, maintenance and all taxes | 16,780,610 |
| Fixed charges and preferred stock dividends of subsidiaries | $10,016,703 |
| Depreciation (assumed at rates in mortgages of larger subsidiaries) | 1,620,769 — 11,637,472 |
| | $5,143,138 |
| Proportion of above balance applicable to common stocks to be owned by Cities Service Power & Light Company | $4,898,632 |
| Other income of Cities Service Power & Light Company* | 863,289 |
| Amount applicable to interest | $5,760,921 |
| Annual interest requirements on these bonds | 1,200,000 |

*Annual income derivable from other investments in subsidiaries presently to be acquired by Cities Service Power & Light Company

Total income applicable to common stocks to be owned by Cities Service Power & Light Company and other income, as shown above, were 4.8 times annual interest requirements on these $20,000,000 Series A bonds, and for the two and one-half years ended June 30, 1924, such income, including other income on basis indicated above, was at the annual rate of $5,721,936, or over 4.7 times annual interest requirements on such bonds.

Net income, after depreciation as above, applicable to dividends on the preferred and common stocks to be pledged as security for these bonds, was $4,830,905 for the twelve months ended June 30, 1924, or 4 times annual interest requirements on the present issue, and for the two and one-half years ended that date was at the annual rate of $4,690,491, or 3.9 times such interest requirements.

INDENTURE PROVISIONS

Additional Series A bonds, not exceeding $5,000,000, may be issued without pledge of additional collateral on compliance with restrictions as to earnings, and as to cash income from the pledged collateral. Other series of bonds, ranking equally with the Series A bonds, may be issued, under conservative restrictions, upon the pledge of additional collateral.

CITIES SERVICE COMPANY

Cities Service Company will acquire substantially all of the stocks of Cities Service Power & Light Company to be presently issued. Cities Service Company, which owns diversified interests in oil and natural gas and other properties, has a present outstanding capitalization of $25,966,715 Debentures, $85,522,856 Preferred Stocks and $46,032,818 Common Stock, with aggregate present market value over $175,000,000.

We offer these bonds for delivery if, when and as issued and accepted by us, subject to approval of legal proceedings by counsel. It is expected that delivery in the form of temporary bonds of the company or interim receipts of Dillon, Read & Co. will be made on or about November 20, 1924.

STOCKS HIGHER IN NEW YORK

Interesting on the eNew York Stock Exchange, for the second day, U. S. Steel common and various oil shares caused selling pressure against industrials to subside, enabling virtually all classes of stocks to join in the upward movement.

Further accumulation of dividend paying railroad issues, including Atchison, Illinois Central, Union Pacific, New York Central and Southern Pacific, accentuated the early advance in the latter named carriers. New York Central attained a new 1924 high level and Ann Arbor moved to new highs.

Early losses in several industrials and specialties were partially recovered and midday the upward swing had extended throughout the general market. The first hourly sales, aggregating 528,000 shares, were the heaviest the year, money renewed at 3 per cent.

In trading on the Boston Stock Exchange, the utilities were the chief selling extirights, up a point. Other wise local prices generally were fractionally lower.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS—Special Commission to Investigate Boston Intermediate Thoroughfare. Petition of the Boulevard Committee of the Board of the Selectmen of the Town of Brookline praying for a Special Commission to investigate the Matter of Laying Out and Constructing a New Thoroughfare in the City of Boston and the Towns of Brookline and Brighton, of certain streets in Connection Therewith, Roseberry, Chestnut Hill and Newton, consisting of the chairman of the division of metropolitan planning of the metropolitan district commission, who shall be chairman of said special commission, and two members of the planning board, the finance commission, the city engineer and the commissioner of street commissioners, of the city of Boston, by order of the Governor, investigate the matter of laying out and constructing a new thoroughfare in the city of Boston and the extension and widening of certain streets in connection therewith, said commission shall give especial consideration to the report of the Boston Transit Commission dated Nov. 1, 1923, and to any other matters deemed necessary by the said commission for the proper adjustment of betterments collectible on any existing law, and consider and recommend ways and means for financing the required expenditures, and in this connection shall consider whether by changes in existing law or otherwise provision can be made for relieving the general public of a greater proportion of the burden of the cost of same by increasing the betterments collectible, by levying a special tax upon the district or districts specially benefited, by a municipal betterment tax on valuation, or by other means. The commission shall report its findings and recommendations in full to the next general court, on or before the tenth day of January, thirteen hundred and twenty-five, with drafts of any legislation which it may deem expedient. Subject to such appropriation as may hereafter be made, said commission may employ such engineering and other assistance as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this resolve, and may expend such sum or sums as may be appropriated for the purposes of this resolve. The expenses of said commission shall be paid one-half by the Commonwealth and one-half when approved by the governor and council from the State Treasury, and the State Treasurer shall issue his warrant requiring the assessors of the city of Boston to assess a tax for the amount of such expense, and such amount shall be collected and paid to the State Treasurer in the same manner and at the same time as other State taxes. Approved June 4, 1924.

Upon the foregoing resolve, the Special Commission to Investigate the Boston Intermediate Thoroughfare, at the call of Governor Alvan T. Fuller, will hold a public hearing in Room 427, State House, on Friday, November 14, 1924, at 10 a. m.

CITY OF BOSTON—In Board of Street Commissioners, November 3, 1924. Voted, That a public hearing be given in Room 401, City Hall Annex, on all matters relating to the proposed amendments to the street regulations. To make Oxford street, Boston Proper, a one-way street to Washington street, a one-way street to cubicular traffic, and to prohibit the standing of vehicles on said street. To restrict the standing of vehicles to one hour on Tremont Row and party Court street, and to prohibit the standing of vehicles on all parcels on streets in the so-called restricted district bounded by Tremont, Boylston, Washington and Court streets, on Saturdays between 9 o'clock A. M. and 5 o'clock P. M. To provide for two-hour parking on Tremont Row and Court street, and to restrict the standing of vehicles in the so-called restricted district to one hour on Sundays and Municipal holidays.

Boosting the Low-Priced Motor Car

It seems sometimes as if the purpose of gentlemen in charge of the transportation companies was to DISCOURAGE patronage.

Take, for example, the regulations of the Boston Elevated Railway management in connection with the new 6-cent fare.

First of all, the passenger must buy FIVE 6-cent tickets.

On his way to work in the morning he must, if he intends to return at night on the 6-cent schedule, hand the conductor TWO tickets.

The conductor then gives the passenger a WARRANT.

The passenger—if he happens to remember it—surrenders the "warrant" as he is about to leave the car and receives a RETURN COUPON, good for the ride outbound.

Strip of tickets, 30 cents, two tickets, warrant, return coupon, wasn't there anything else they could think of?

Why in the name of common sense is it so tremendously difficult for the Boston Elevated to take a cash fare on these short hauls? In other cities, these "odd-cent" fares are dropped directly into the fare-box, and that's the end of it.

That should be the system, here.

Nominations Are in Order

Who Will Be OUR First Lady Governor?

And Miriam Ferguson of Texas is not to be the first woman Governor of one of the States, after all.

"Ma" IS the first woman ever nominated for that high office, but Governor Nellie Ross of Wyoming will be the first to take full charge and deliver an inaugural address.

Their most excellent Excellencies were both elected on the same day, but under the election laws of Wyoming the successful candidate takes the office as soon as she qualifies. Governor Nellie will qualify at once.

How soon will MASSACHUSETTS have a woman Governor?

Twenty years ago, the question would have provoked a smile. The thing was quite unthinkable. It was to laugh.

It isn't a joke any longer, brethren, and the question is asked here in all seriousness. We shall have a woman Governor one of these days and we will not have to wait ANOTHER twenty years for her, either.

The best way out of the cavity into which fate appears to have deposited the Democratic organization of this State might be to name a woman candidate in 1926.

Who is YOUR candidate, Democrat, Republican or other?

Write to the Boston American about her. Wyoming, Texas, for pity sake don't let us trail the whole procession. Let's be first in New England to have a nice, sweet, kind and intelligent lady Governor.

P. S.—No objection to good looks.

Beware of Foreign Loans

The Interest Is FINE—What About the Principal?

Now the big foreign loan is all ready for unloading on American investors. You will be asked, with promise of a high interest rate, to hand over two hundred million dollars to help the Germans pay their debts to the nations that conquered them.

Many will buy the European bonds as fast as they are unloaded here. A great many people invested in Mr. Ponzi's get-rich-quick scheme. And if Mr. Ponzi again went into the same business and made the same promises, many would invest with him.

But a few Americans at least will say, "Why should I invest my money at 8 per cent. in European bonds to help pay the price of the last war and perhaps start a new one. I can invest the money here in the United States and get back the principal as well as fair interest? That suits me."

Beware of foreign loans for the next twenty years. If you invest and lose it will be your own fault.

It Is Hard to Skin Hogs

So Says A. D. White, He Ought to Know

Mr. O'Kie, Jr., wrote saying it was a cruel waste to sell hams and bacon with the hide of the pig attached. The pig ought to have the hide taken off, the hide ought to be used for shoes, valises, etc., and the pig meat sold without the hide. That's what Mr. O'Kie said, and it sounded reasonable at first glance.

The matter was referred to A. D. White, of Swift & Co., with a request to skin all the hogs, hams and bacon, and use the skin for leather without loss of time, if possible.

Now it turns out that, unlike some other animals, such as eels and oxen, hogs do not "skin" easily. And it really wouldn't pay to skin them. This is what Mr. White says about it:

Because of the physical make-up of the hog, it is impossible to remove its skin in such manner that hides are removed from cattle.

There is no film or tissue between skin and flesh, as with cattle to facilitate the separation without damage either to skin or flesh. To split hogs destroys the skin directly away from the flesh, a task that is not only laborious but expensive. To do so would promote ragged sides and unsightly cuts of meat, thereby cause of their undesirable appearance, would be discriminated against by dealers and consumers.

Even if it were practicable to remove the pigskins, it is doubtful they would command a price sufficiently attractive to the packer to interest him in the meat.

That seems to settle for the time being the suggestion about selling hams and bacon without any hide on them and selling the hide separately. There is no doubt at all as to the value of the hide. But with present methods, perhaps it can't be done.

Perhaps on the other hand some genius will invent a way for skinning pigs without injuring the meat. The Wisdom that created man and the pig to serve him knew of course that we would kill the pig and skin it. Perhaps it could be arranged to skin a pig as easily as we skin an eel or a rabbit if we knew HOW. Do you know?

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS—

By HELEN ROWLAND

THINKEST thou, oh Foolish One, because thou hast borrowed man's knickerbockers and imitated his hair-cut, that thou are his counterpart?

Nay. Heaven be praised, thou art still a WOMAN, and shalt rejoice and suffer, even as a woman!

For lo, to a woman, marriage is love and always the Great Adventure, but, to a man, it is only a dangerous venture.

To a woman, the altar is still the End of the Trail; but to a man it is only one of the milestones along the way.

To a woman romance is a fascinating dream which she pursueth to the end of her days; but to a man it is a childish fairy-tale, yea, even a Santa Claus story, in which he soon ceaseth to believe.

To a woman, her first kiss is a sacrament or a sacrilege; but to a man his first kiss is a surprise, an experiment or an ordeal.

To a woman, home is her stronghold, wherewith she "holdeth" her husband, but to a man it is an anchor, which he is forever "dragging."

To a woman, the admiration and approval of men is food and wine; but to a man, the admiration of women is only a little "relish," and their approval a foregone conclusion.

To a woman, all her love affairs are sacred remembrances tenderly cherished; but to a man all love affairs are amusing or bitter recollections, even as his last year's follies.

To a woman, a proposal is a triumph and an engagement ring a trophy; but, to a man, a proposal is a private confession of weakness and an engagement ring a public confession of surrender.

To a woman, a wedding ring is a symbol of her faith and security; but, to a man a wedding ring is a symbol of his ownership, and marketh its wearer as his private property.

Yea, verily, verily, when a damsel fasteneth on her wedding veil and trippeth to the altar I MAY be for love. But when a man climbeth into his wedding coat and dragggeth himself to the altar it is for love and LOVE alone!

For unto a man a wedding is a sacrificial ordeal and the supreme test of his devotion.

But unto a woman life without a wedding would be as Christmas without a Christmas tree!

How then, oh thou Foolish One, dost thou think by a Bonyer flish to attain the freedom of Man? For thou canst not "bob" thy SOUL, which is still a woman's, and full of yearnings!

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

"TIME day of miracles is don," we shake our heads and say, " nowhere beneath the shining sun are wonders worked today. There is no ladder made of light where angels may descend, no fiery pillar shines by night to lead to journey's end. The world has grown too old and wise to look for such strange things as came in ancient dynasties, in old, forgotten springs. "No miracles will come again," we say, and do not see the miracle of sun and rain that wakes the sleeping tree; the miracle of springtime's call that stirs the dreaming seed and brings the tiniest's madrical to still our spirit's need.

Letters Not Answered Personally. No Attention Paid to Telephone Calls or Anonymous Letters. No Names Published

Begs for Wheel Chair

Helping Hand Editor:

I am a T. B. patient and have been in bed three years on and off because of hemorrhages. I have been in bed now since June 1 without putting my foot on the floor. I would like to sit up a little each day if I only had a wheel chair, and in that way perhaps I would get more strength. If any one of your kind readers have such a chair I could have, I surely will be so grateful. CATHERINE A.

Thanks for Miss A.

Helping Hand Editor:

Will you please thank Miss A. of Somerville for her kindness to us? My husband went to her home and received many useful gifts and he was so pleased at the way she received him. We are very grateful to her. MRS. G. S.

Cannot Afford Music

Helping Hand Editor:

Will some one of your kind readers sent me a pair of McCormack's songs or Caruso's, or a book called "Culture of Courage," which I cannot afford to buy. Am trying to "come back" after a long series of misfortunes and much illness, and I need the stimulation of music and proper encouragement.

SAD HEART.

Please Send Address

F. C., Woburn, who wishes to continue school—please send street address. There are several kind readers offering to help you.

Unfortunates Want Games

Helping Hand Editor:

Will you be so kind as to see if some of your good readers have a radio or victrola, games of any kind, etc., that myself and the other poor unfortunates who are unable to walk and in wheel chairs may enjoy and help pass away the long dreary hours? We would appreciate any of the above things.

FRANK T.

Long Island Hospital.

Rent Is Paid

Helping Hand Editor:

Mamma and I got your welcome letter telling us two kind men had sent us money to pay our rent and, oh, you will never know how happy we were. Mother told the landlord, and he said it would be all right, that we could stay, as he would rather have us than strangers, but you see he is poor himself and needs his rent. Mamma is so happy she is crying now. We won't have to leave. God is good to us, and please thank them for Mamma and me. Also the man who sent the $1.00. LITTLE PEARL.

Young Mother In Need

Helping Hand Editor:

I am a mother of two children and expect the stork again. I am only twenty years old, and my husband is making such small pay that I can't afford any clothes for myself or children. I am badly in need of sheets and pillow cases and a rubber sheet. I would also like to have some clothing for the two boys three and four years of age and for myself, 40 to 42. I hope some of your kind readers will help me. MRS. E. L. K.

Mother of Eleven

Helping Hand Editor:

I have eleven little ones, and my husband makes only $33 a week. I have only one boy able to work, and he is out of work for two months now. I have a baby one month old and another seventeen months. I have no bed or carriage for them. If any of the kind readers have either one of these I would be so glad to get it. I have hard time to get along and would like a warm blanket for my little ones. MRS. M. M. M.

ROMANCE OF HOLES IN THE BREAD

By DR. FRANK CRANE

M. R. I. K. RUSSELL, member of the American Chemical Society, has written a book entitled, "The Romance of the Holes in the Bread."

He says that all our lives we have been accustomed, three times a day since we began to toddle, to see holes in the bread, and perhaps some of us have wondered what caused them. If we had known we might have been on a level with the greatest scientist in the world.

This scientist was named Louis Pasteur, who was called the father of modern medicine.

He was declared, in a voting contest in France, to be the greatest Frenchman who ever lived. Most of us would have voted for Napoleon.

Louis Pastëur noted that when heat was applied to dough and it passed about a certain point it broke up and changed in the nature and function of its particles.

He applied the function of the bake oven to other things in life.

There was cholera, which had swept over the cities of the middle ages every Winter, taking thousands of victims. There was smallpox, which was almost universally prevalent, and typhoid fever, which swept in great epidemics the face of the country.

Besides these, there were certain fevers which, in maternity hospitals, carried off eighty women out of every hundred admitted.

Pasteur, when only a young man, asked that the doctors lend him their bandages and instruments, so that he might bake them or pass them through a flame to kill any germ particles on them. The doctors let him take the bandages and the sheets used by the nurses and the death rate dropped to twenty out of a hundred.

He demonstrated that the dough of bread contained yeast which ate away its starches and sugar and gave off carbon dioxide and alcohol.

From this he extended his studies to prevent wine from turning to vinegar, and to preserve some 30 or 40 per cent. of the beer which the brewers had been in the habit of throwing away as rotten, to cure the plague that had been ravaging among the silk worms, to prevent cholera among chickens, and anthrax among herds of beasts.

Pasteur tied all these instances of human, animate and inanimate experiences together and applied to them, one after another, his great discovery and thus protected humanity and the animals, in a measure, from their enemies among microscopic life.

DUTY OF SCIENCE TO CORRECT ERRORS

By Garrett P. Serviss,

ONE of the duties of science is to safeguard the public not only against physical evils and dangers, but against the equally perilous errors of the mind.

I have received from a gentleman in Brooklyn, who "has delved deeply into astrology," a protest against my calling astrological divinations futile. After saying that astronomy, "from a mathematical view point presents many absorbing problems," he goes on as follows:

"Having a distinct occult tendency in my make-up, I also turned my time to astrology, in a mood that one might term 'indifferent,' and open to reason.' Since that time, not many years ago, I have been awed by the evidence of planetary authority I have found. In two years I have cured myself of a disease I have had since birth.

"In one short year I have raised my position in the world considerably, and have had a constant flow of success from all directions. I never commence an undertaking when the 'innocent' Mars, or Saturn, transists my midheaven. It has long been my dream to become a successful author. The goal is in sight, I believe, although I never had any success in selling my literary efforts until I watched the transits of Mercury. I have tried to help others—impossible.

"I am puzzled, perhaps as you have named them, a superstitious fool, yet harmless. And above all I have come to have a deep reverence for Almighty Omnipotence, through the watching of the workings of His mighty laws, a reverence that the teachings of astronomy and Einstein never reared in me.

"Your article is an unfair attack upon a science in which even the great Kepler, whom I daresay you cannot call a superstitious fool, had the greatest faith. I beg of you in the name of fairness to publish this letter, as your works are likely to have a harmful effect upon the gullible millions, who are watchword is 'backward, ever backward?'"

To begin with, I have never called anybody a "superstitious fool," though possibly a cap of that shape might be cut out of some of the impersonal expressions that I have employed in combating harmful superstitions. As to Kepler, read Dreyer's life of that astronomer.

In the next place, I do not believe that "the millions" are "gullible," any more than I believe that their "watchword is 'backward, ever backward.'" Far too many persons, unfortunately, are gullible, but gullibility is not confined to any class. That is evident.

It is because I believe, on the contrary, that the watchword of the great majority of mankind is "forward, ever forward," that I so often take up this subject, wishing to help the onward movement away from the confusing clouds of superstition.

What is superstition? It is belief based upon imaginary grounds that have so often been pointed out, faith in astronomical vaticination rests entirely upon fortuitous coincidences.

It is only its forced association with astronomy—from which it differs entirely in spirit—that gives astrology an apparent claim to be called a "science." Its principles are in direct contradiction to those of astronomy and of physics. The very essence—"fluence" of the planets on the lives and fortunes of men is without the slightest scientific verification.

There is not a fact known to astronomy that justifies the claims of astrology.

An "occult tendency in one's makeup" is not a desirable quality for anybody to possess who desires to judge the facts and occurrences of his life clear headedly and with critical exactness.

There was a time—and that, too, in the great days of Greek and Roman conquest—when battles were supposed to be controlled by the direction of the flight of crows or the special appearance that the augurs detected in the entrails of victims slain at the altar. But Alexander and Cæsar laughed in their sleeves at such nonsense.

The way they won victories was by fighting. The transits of Mars, Saturn or Mercury over "the mid-heaven" of an astrological horoscope have just as much effect upon the fortunes of him for whom the horoscope is drawn as the entrancing crows and bleeding victims had upon the careers of the great Macedonian and Roman conquerors—and not a whit more!

SAVE YOUR MONEY BY BUYING A HOME.

You may be contemplating buying a home soon.

But some men have told you that it is cheaper to rent—no taxes nor repair bills to pay, no insurance and no money not tied up—such is their line of reasoning.

But there is another argument as surely worth looking into.

You have been paying rent some ten or fifteen years.

What have you to show for it besides your rental receipts?

If you had made a payment on a house at the time you started to pay rent by now you would have owned that house or at least you would have had a large equity on it.

By now you would have had something to turn into money.

You should remember that when a landlord charges you rent he includes in that rent the very expenses you are seeking to avoid when you listen to false reasoning.

Sometimes the argument is put forth that the $5,000, $10,000 or $15,000 you may have in a home would be earning interest in other investments, but would you have saved as much money if you were not purchasing a home?
